Geneva Negotiations Begin

Russians Renew Demands To Ban A-Tests Forever

GENEVA (AP) — Russia today reiterated its demand for an immediate suspension of nuclear weapon tests forever.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin made the demand at the start of negotiations with the United States and Britain for a joint suspension of tests under international control.

Tsarapkin said a permanent undertaking by the three powers to stop tests should precede negotiation of the control system to detect violations. The West has consistently refused to agree to a permanent cessation of tests unless the control system is set up first.

Meanwhile, voluntary British and American cessation of tests for a one-year period went into effect today. But both countries have given notice they will resume testing if Russian tests continue.

The negotiations, expected to continue for at least a month, will be conducted in privacy.

The two Western governments hoped the Soviet Union would join them in an informal suspension of test explosions for the time being.

All three nations professed to favor banning the tests, but a continuing East-West split was underlined by these developments on the conference eve:

1. The Soviet Union insisted that the talks must lead to an agreement outlawing tests immediately and forever, regardless of whether a control system is approved.

2. The United States and Britain announced a conditional one-year suspension of their tests, effective last midnight. The condition was that the Soviet Union cease firing nuclear explosives too.

There was no immediate comment from the Russians, however, as to whether they would join in the suspension.

Heading the delegations are Ambassador James J. Wadsworth of the United States, Semyon K. Tsarapkin of the Soviet Union and Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore of Britain.

New Soviet notes sent to the Western powers Thursday suggested that Secretary of State Dulles, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd sit in later to speed agreement.

This modified the Kremlin's proposal a month ago that the meeting be raised at the start to the foreign ministers' level. The United States and Britain indicated Dulles and Lloyd would take part later if agreement appeared likely.

The Russians have been testing this fall at their arctic proving grounds. U.S. scientists, racing against a diplomatic deadline, wound up an intensive series of shots Thursday at the Nevada test site. Britain has fired five devices in the Pacific since last spring.

Ike To Make Windup Vote Bid For GOP

President Slated On TV-Radio Tonight In Baltimore Speech

By The Associated Press

President Eisenhower makes a final bid tonight for a Republican Congress. The opposition says he owes thanks to the Democratic-controlled Congress for any administration accomplishments.

Eisenhower, who has campaigned with new vigor in this year's battle for Congress, chose Baltimore for his windup vote-Republican appeal to the nation via radio and television.

The President has struck some heavy blows at the Democrats in speeches all the way to the West Coast. But he was expected to lay emphasis tonight on what he contends are his administration's achievements in the foreign and domestic fields.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas said Eisenhower has received more cooperation from Democrats in Congress than from Republicans in the House and Senate.

Speaking to a party rally in Indianapolis, Johnson said the President ought to remember "that the accomplishments he now holds forth as his own are the works of a Democratic Congress."

In this connection, Johnson mentioned antirecession measures and steps to counter Soviet scientific advances. The Texan said Democratic votes saved Eisenhower's foreign policy programs in Congress.

The Senate Democratic leader also dismissed as scare words the charges by Republican campaigners, including Eisenhower, that the Democrats harbor political radicalism.

In the same vein, Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler accused Eisenhower of using radicalism and socialism as scare-words against the Democrats.

Noting that Eisenhower's Baltimore speech tonight falls on Halloween, Butler said in a statement that Eisenhower should "throw away the hobgoblin speech your ghosts have written" and discuss the issues.

Vice President Nixon forged deeper into the West today, still sounding an optimistic note on Republican prospects next Tuesday.

Nixon was headed for Billings, Mont., and Everett, Wash., before going on to Alaska to back GOP candidates in that new state. Alaska will vote Nov. 25.

At Wichita, Kan., Thursday night, Nixon urged Republican party workers to "pour it on all over the country" in these closing days of the campaign. He said the Democrats have "run out of gas" and pictured them as "staggering and stumbling toward the finish line."

A crowd of nearly 10,000 persons — Nixon called it his largest of the campaign— heard him in person. The speech also was televised.

Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate in 1952 and 1956, appeared at a party rally in Chicago and said a "void left by the failure of White House leadership is being filled by Congress."

Stevenson, preparing to campaign in Minnesota Saturday, said

Prosecutor To Try Again On Monday

Panel Out 4 Hours Before Telling Court Verdict Impossible

The burglary trial of Ira Cunningham and Robert Carroll ended with a "hung jury" this morning at Lisbon after the panel of eight women and four men apparently had deadlocked at 11-1 for conviction.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said immediately the case will be retried, starting Monday.

The two former East Liverpool policemen went to trial Monday before Judge Raymond Buzzard on an indictment returned in 1956 for entering the Smith & Phillips Co. store four years earlier.

Mrs. Bernice Bennett of Lisbon, forewoman, reported at 11:30 the panel was unable to reach a decision after slightly over 4 hours deliberation.

It had deliberated 3½ hours before reporting its inability earlier when Judge Buzzard urged the jurors to resume deliberations.

A juror said afterwards one had held out for a verdict of not guilty.

The jurors notified the court at 10:45 they had not arrived at a decision after deliberating two hours yesterday and an hour and a half today.

Judge Buzzard said, "I want to ask you to return to the jury room and again review the evidence and seek to arrive at a verdict."

The trial was the seventh in the series of police burglary cases. Closing arguments led by Prosecutor Brokaw and Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, defense counsel, ended the major portion of the trial Thursday afternoon.

Robert McBane, ex-officer who has admitted eight of the nine indictments, has been the prosecution's chief witness.

In closing arguments yesterday afternoon, both sides centered comments upon the testimony of McBane, who has been a key figure throughout the police cases.

Defense Atty. Samuel Fekett said the ex-officer's testimony "is the crux of this trial." Fekett said McBane is an admitted burglar "at least 40 or 50 times," yet had been indicted only on 8 counts and not sentenced on those charges yet. "He had to testify what Prosecutor Brokaw told him or face fur-

U.S. Begins Year's Ban On Atomic Tests

Russia Snubs U.S. And British Plan About Suspension

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time since it opened the atomic age 13 years ago, the United States began today a trial suspension of nuclear weapons test explosions.

The suspension may continue for a year, with possible indefinite renewal, or it may last only a few days or even hours. That depends on what the Soviet Union does.

The U.S. halt coincided with the opening today of a U.S.-British-Soviet conference in Geneva to seek agreement on a permanent test ban policed by an international inspection system.

The Soviet government rejected a U.S.-British proposal that all three of the world's nuclear powers agree on a one-year suspension beginning today.

The Soviets contended they have the right to go on testing until they have matched bomb for bomb the number of explosions fired by the United States and Britain during the summer and fall.

If the Soviet government goes on with the test series which it began at the end of September, officials said, the United States will consider that its suspension is no longer in effect and will resume testing itself. Secretary of State Dulles and Chairman John A. McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission had announced this policy earlier in the week. Authorities here understood that Britain was following the same kind of policy.

Lincoln White, State Department press officer, accused the Soviet government of inconsistencies in its present attitude toward suspending tests.

Moscow Radio Invites Pasternak To Get Out

LONDON (AP)—Moscow Radio, in 10 languages, invited novelist-poet Boris Pasternak today to get out of the Soviet Union.

"Let him go where he wishes to," the broadcasts said of the writer, who turned down the 1958 Nobel Prize this week under heavy Soviet pressure. "No Soviet man or woman wants to breathe the air he breathes."

The broadcasts — in English, German, French, Portuguese, Swedish, Norwegian, Danish, Greek, Italian and Serbo-Croat — declared the author of "Doctor Zhivago" has "no place in Soviet society." They called Pasternak "a man who in spirit has long been a traitor to his country and who has now spat in its face... a poet of the decadent school...a pretender to aesthetic culture who wrote for a select few and had no contact with the people."

Pope May Add To His College Of Cardinals

May Call Consistory And Increase Senate Before Christmas

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII's activities stirred speculation today that he would call a consistory soon — perhaps before Christmas — to increase and strengthen the College of Cardinals.

Vatican observers picture the new spirutual sovereign of the world's half billion Roman Catholics as anxious to strengthen his senate of cardinals in the light of the vastly complex problems of administration facing the church in the modern age.

There are still 17 vacancies in the college, whose normal strength is 70. It is believed likely the new pontiff is considering elevating at least two American prelates to bring the U.S. representation to 23.

The far-flung affairs of the church would seem to require a continuation of Pius XII's policy of stressing the church's universality. It would be no surprise, therefore, if Pope John named at least two new Latin American cardinals, one African who perhaps would be the first Negro cardinal in history, and at least one more Asian.

Vacancies also might be filled in Spain, Austria, the Netherlands and England.

Almost sure to be raised to the purple are Msgr. Domenico Tardini, Vatican prosecretary of state, and Archbishop Giovanni Battista Montini of Milan. Both long had served Pius XII in the administration of foreign affairs, and both received his permission to decline a cardinal's red hat so that they could work closely with him.

O'Neill Ends Campaign Tonight With TV Talk

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill will end his campaign for re-election tonight. But his Democratic opponent Michael V. DiSalle will continue his campaign through election eve.

O'Neill will make a final statewide telecast at 10 p.m. tonight.

DiSalle will make appearances in Toledo Saturday and Cleveland Sunday. He will wind up his campaign with a television broadcast in Toledo Monday.

The governor will go to Springfield Sunday for the dedication of a new Catholic high school. He and Mrs. O'Neill will fly to their hometown of Marietta Tuesday to vote.

DiSalle will vote in Toledo.

Mechanics Set Strike Tonight Against TWA

Airlines Plan To Suspend Operations If They Walk Out

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The men who maintain and service Trans World Airlines planes prepared to strike tonight and TWA says it will suspend operations if they do.

The airline, one of the nation's Big Four, said it would furlough its 19,000 employes if the 6,700 members of the International Assn. of Machinists strike.

A spokesman for TWA offices in New York City said a strike would shut down operations worldwide. TWA operates 200 planes on 50,000 miles of routes—across the United States from San Francisco to New York, across the Atlantic, and through Europe to the Far East.

A similar strike grounded Capital Airlines planes for the 16th day today.

TWA and District 142 of the IAM have been negotiating since their contract expired Oct. 1, 1957. Their dispute has been heard by federal mediators and a presidential emergency board. The union rejected recommendations by both.

The principal controversy concerns the union's insistence that all TWA workers covered by the contract remain under its provisions for the duration of the agreement.

TWA made a new wage offer Thursday and asked it be submitted to the membership. The union refused.

Increases offered, retroactively and in the future, would have amounted to 15 per cent in all classifications by Oct. 1, 1959. The contract would run another year.

Miller said wages range from $1.45 an hour for kitchen helpers to $2.51 for skilled mechanics.

Board Invitation Required

Kent State To Set Up Branch In City

East Liverpool was selected as the site for the location of an extension branch of Kent State University when the executive committee of the Eastern Ohio Council for Higher Education decided Thursday to push for the establishment of a unit to serve four Eastern Ohio counties.

The Board of Education will be asked Monday night to invite KSU to establish the branch, Supt. Ralph W. Betts, head of a committee to promote the branch, said.

He explained the university will not take any further steps until it receives a formal invitation.

The council conferred with F. Leslie Spier, director of extension work for Kent State on the decommittee, which also includes tails and appointed the promotion E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Some 25 school administrators in Columbiana, Jefferson, Carroll and Harrison counties attended.

The target date for the start of classes is next September with the facilities of the city schools being used. The council hopes to offer courses in education, arts and sciences and commerce and eventually to allow students to receive two years of college work without leaving home.

An extensive survey will be made to determine the number of students and courses indicated, Betts said.

The branch will be "an integral part" of Kent State and no distinction will be made between credits earned in the extension branch and those earned on the campus.

In addition to offering residents a chance to obtain college work, the branch also will help relieve the crowded conditions on the campus, Betts pointed out.

Two-thirds of the instructors will be Kent State faculty members and one-third may be secured from other neighboring colleges. However, the instructors will be employed by Kent State and will have to meet the same requirements for employment as the university uses in hiring its own faculty members.

The branch will operate on a quarter basis, the same as the university, and the fee probably will be $10 for each hour's credit plus a library fee to help build up the professional library that would be required.

Most students probably would enroll for 6 to 9 hours' credit and the fee would range from $60 to $90, Betts explained.

The classes probably will start at 6:15 p. m. and run until 10 p. m. so that a student could take two courses each night. If sufficient students are available, some of the classes could start as early as 4:30 p. m.

British Youth, 17, Shot, Killed On Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) —A 17-year-old British youth was shot and killed in Famagusta today while walking to work. He was the youngest of 131 Britons killed in Cyprus in the 3½ years of terrorist activity by EOKA, the Greek Cypriot underground.

The youth, Bryan Edward Preece, was the son of a British army sergeant.

Chester Man Is Accused Of Manslaughter

Dale Morrell Pleads Innocent In Hearing Over Traffic Fatality

A Chester motorist was bound to the Columbiana County Grand Jury today on a charge of second degree manslaughter as the aftermath of a crash Saturday night on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. in which a companion was killed.

Dale Morrell, 27, of 182 Montana Ave., driver of the death car, pleaded innocent when arraigned before Mayor William Shoub of Wellsville this morning. His bond was set at $1,000.

The manslaughter charge was filed by the State Highway Patrol, which also cited Morrell on a reckless driving count. He pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs by Mayor Shoub.

John Wilbert Webber, 21, of near East Palestine died of injuries suffered in the wreck which also injured Morrell, his brother, John Morrell, 23, of 133 Church Ln., East Liverpool, and Theodore Felkey, 24, of 454 Virginia Ave., Midland.

The patrol said Dale Morrell was driving "at a high rate of speed" and with the headlights of his car not on when he apparently lost control and the car crashed into the standard of a railroad crossing signal.

Woman's Auto Drifts, Plunges Over Hillside

A driverless 1955 model auto was damaged heavily Thursday night when it plunged over an embankment off St. Clair Ave. after drifting away from a parking place on Midway Ln., police said.

Mrs. Dorothy Cartwright, 755 Midway Ln., told police she parked the car a few doors from her home. Children notified her about 8:50 that the car had gone over the hillside on St. Clair, which intersects Manor Ln. at right angles.

Police said an unknown person apparently took the car out of gear and released the emergency brake, causing it to drift away. The front, both sides and the rear wheels of the car were damaged, officers said.

A parked auto owned by Robert Knowles, 831 Cadmus St., was damaged in a mishap Thursday at 9:30 p. m. on Jackson St., police said. Details were lacking, as the driver of the second auto was to report to headquarters today with his version, officers said.

Special Ballot Issued To 479

32 Still Must Return Tickets To Board

The County Election Board issued 479 civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots for the general election Tuesday before the deadline Thursday at 4 p. m.

All except 32 of the ballots already were voted and back in the board's hands this morning. The 32 must be at the board's office by noon today if they're to be counted at the polls Tuesday.

The board also has issued 97 ballots under the Ohio "soldier voting" law to persons in the armed forces and civilians residing temporarily outside the United States. Twenty-nine of the "soldier ballots" have not been returned.

However, state law permits issuance of the "soldier ballots" until noon Saturday and they may be returned as late as noon on Election Day, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, explained.

The board is preparing to distribute precinct election supplies to presiding judges over the weekend.

The distribution for the northern section of the county is scheduled from 9 a. m. to noon Saturday at the Courthouse in Lisbon. Supplies for East Liverpool district precincts will be handed out Monday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. at the board's office on W. 6th St., opposite City Hall.

Supplies for Wellsville area precincts will be distributed Monday night at 6:45 at Wellsville City Hall.

Progressive Council Has Panel

Both Sides Air Income Tax Case

For the first time in the campaign, arguments both for and against the city income tax were given from the same platform in a panel discussion Thursday night at a meeting of the United Progressive Council in the Hill Building on Mulberry St.

Urging that voters retain the tax were Mayor Fred P. Lawrence and Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti. The opposition was represented by Atty. George A. Aronson, who drafted the initiative ordinance placed on the ballot seeking repeal, and Larry Finlay, a potter and grocer who drew a suspended fine for violation of the tax law.

LAST NIGHT'S meeting also marked the first occasion that the opposition views have been presented at a public meeting since April, when Council was considering enactment of the tax. Each of the speakers was allowed 10 minutes at the outset, followed by 5 minutes for rebuttal from each side in a second round of talks.

First to speak, Maggianetti pointed to the increases in personnel in the fire and police departments made possible by the tax income. Both departments also have gone through the first phase of training programs and each has received some new equipment, he added.

Citing major improvements planned for the fire department, the director said it needs a new pumper and the North Side Station should be replaced. The tax income has made it possible to hire more employes to clean and repair storm and sanitary sewers and launch a citywide program for oiling of unsurfaced streets and seal-coating of blacktop pavement.

THE ADDITIONAL revenue will make it possible to repair or rebuild "main arterial streets" and surface unimproved streets "at reasonable cost to the property-owners," he added.

First to speak for the opposition, Finlay asserted that "the manner in which this tax was foisted on you deprived you of your rights of citizenship."

The Soviets charged the United States and Britain with trying to obtain a one-sided military advantage by offering a test suspension upon conclusion of their own experimental explosions. Yet, White said in a statement, the Soviet government "describes as absurd the idea that the Western powers have any superiority in the field of nuclear research."

The statement also recalled that in September 1957 the Soviet Union proposed a ban on nuclear tests for two or three years from last June 1. But now, the State Department said, the Soviet government says it is interested only in halting tests "for all time."

Officials said the Soviets show signs of backing away from a test ban agreement while using all sorts of arguments—however contradictory — to try to cover up their maneuver.

Porcupines Take Big Toll Of Pulp Trees

NEW YORK (AP)—The porcupine is making smorgasbord out of newspulp.

The Newsprint Information Committee says these quilled animals take a heavy toll of Canadian pulp trees. For instance, one porcupine on the lose can destroy 2,000 trees in the course of a year, and if half are pulp trees, the raw material for more than 50 tons of newsprint is lost, the committee says.

Meanwhile, the heads of the Republican and Democratic national committees swapped jabs on civil rights — an issue that bulks large in some Northern areas where the Negro vote could be a big factor.

Republican Chairman Meade Alcorn put out a statement speaking of what he called "the shoddy Democrat record on civil rights." Alcorn said, "We had 20 years of nothing in the field of civil rights when Democrats controlled both the Congress and the White House."

Countering, Democratic Chairman Butler said the Republican party "has a long and public record of callous duplicity on human rights." He said it took a Democratic-controlled Congress to pass the first civil rights legislation in this century.

Away from the main theater of political combat, President William A. McDonnell of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce tangled with President George Meany of the AFL-CIO.

Meany on Wednesday said organized labor is not trying to socialize the United States.

Replying in a skeptical tone, McDonnell asked Meany: "Does this mean the AFL-CIO is repudiating its announced legislative program which urges Congress to take broad steps toward socialized medicine, socialized housing, socialized electricity, federal wage-fixing, federal intervention in education and other elements of socialism?

"If so, all lovers of freedom will welcome your declaration."

ther indictments," Fekett declared.

Atty. Alexander said McBane had been given "preferential treatment." He said his clients "have been living under a cloud for 30 months — no case should be delayed that long!" Alexander said "their wives and children have suffered under these accusations, and to have delayed these trials is more punishment than prison."

Atty. Warren Bettis, assistant prosecutor, told the jury, "it is difficult to obtain evidence against a police officer who goes crooked. They are in a position of trust, there is no one to watch over them. The 99 per cent of policemen, hard-working, underpaid and honest, are shamed by men who break their trust."

Prosecutor Brokaw declared, "The defense claims I have told McBane what to say — yet they also say his testimony leaves too many things unanswered. If I had told him what to relate on the witness stand, I certainly would have given an airtight case instead of leaving loopholes.

"There have been vicious attempts to condemn McBane," Brokaw said, "but he had the guts when caught to admit his guilt and to go through the ordeal on the witness stand. It shows a moral strength which comes to the fore in his background."

Both sides received one hour for final arguments yesterday afternoon, after which the judge's reading of the written charge to the jury took about 40 minutes. The charge was written at the request of Atty. Alexander, and a transcript was given the panel to study during its deliberations.

The cast went to the jury at 4 p. m. About 5:55 Judge Buzzard recalled the panel and asked if the jurors thought they could deliver a verdict last night.

Mrs. Bennett said she felt it would be better if they returned today, indicating need for further deliberation.

A new jury venire is slated to report Nov. 10 in preparation for other trials in which the Burbick Hardware store was involved.

Cunningham, Carroll and Raimond were slated to go on trial Oct. 20 for a burglary of the hardware store, but the jury panel was challenged by the defense on grounds Ira Burbick — co-owner of the store — had served on juries this term of court prior to the police trials and some of the prospective jurors may have been influenced by meeting him.

Ohio Has Aired A Hot Issue

Our prediction, when we declared this newspaper's support of the proposal to ban compulsory unionism in Ohio, that every known device to influence opinion would be used by both sides in the campaign has been borne out.

It is not easy to keep an eye on the central fact when this happens. But Ohio has aired a hot issue with mutual benefit to voters on both sides. Despite bombast, misrepresentation and emotionalism, the question is clear:

Should an individual's right to join or not join what he pleases be suspended because an employer and a labor union have reached an agreement to sign his right away?

Issue 2, as it will appear on the ballot next Tuesday, has not been altered a whit by the high-pressure campaiging. It still reads like this:

"No employer or no labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership or non-membership in, or payment or non-payment of money to, a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment in this state. All agreements in conflict with this section are, to the extent of such conflict, unlawful and of no effect in this state."

THE AIRING of the issue has made these things clear:

1. That union members as a whole are as anxious as anyone else to keep their unions clean and worthy of public confidence. Whether Issue 2 is accepted or rejected, Ohio law enforcement will be justified in enforcing laws against intimidation of individuals, conspiracies to defraud and misappropriation of funds.

2. That employers as a whole have lent themselves to an impression that the only way employes in unionized industries can maintain a high standard of living is to turn over their affairs to union negotiators; that nothing ever is forthcoming out of the goodness of an employer's heart.

3. That the public as a whole is too easily misled into believing that a complicated matter like Issue 2 can be settled like a showdown between angels and devils. There are devils and angels on both sides. There are good and bad employers, good and bad unions, good and bad people in all walks of life.

4. That the question is whether, in the long run, good employers, good unions and good people will have more to gain than to lose by removing a detail of a federal law that has lent itself to abuses.

IT IS KNOWN by every Ohioan who has followed the issue in this state that Ohio's vote is a poll on a national question.

The statewide effect of banning compulsory unionism would not be either widespread or immediate — no more so than it has been in Indiana.

But the nationwide effect of the vote here would be both widespread and immediate.

It would signify to every other industrialized state that in the key state of Ohio union spokesmen who have taken a touch-me-not attitude about legislation to curb their power could not command a majority in a showdown.

There would be repercussions in other industrialized states. There would be repercussions in Washington, too, where Congress has been afraid to touch union abuses with a 10-foot legislative pole.

EVENTUALLY, if the United States is going to maintain a jealous guard over personal rights and the dignity of the individual, every worker must be guaranteed a freedom of choice to join or not join a union.

Eventually, all unions must stand or fall on their merits. They must not be able to sustain themselves artificially by agreements with employers to force people to join them and pay dues to them, whether or not they want to join and pay dues.

The question in Ohio is whether it will be done in 1958.

Poor Pasternick, Long May He Live

The Marxist mind never was put on display to worse advantage than in its reaction to the Nobel Prizes bestowed on four Russian intellectuals this year.

Three of them—Pavel A. Cherenkov, Igor E. Tamm and Ilya M. Frank—were scientists. Happily, the science they work in has not been upset recently by any edicts from the Kremlin. Two and two still make four, not five, in their fields of science.

Therefore, their Nobel prizes are acceptable, as of now. They are awards of merit in the realm of the temporary absolute, where all good Marxists dwell.

The fourth Russian intellectual is poor Boris Pasternak, who works in the realm of permanent relativity, because he is a writer. His Nobel Prize, therefore, must be rejected because what he has been writing is not agreeable to the temporary absolutists in the Kremlin.

These men—and women—actually believe that every problem has only one correct solution. They think the world is divided between black and white; that there are no gray zones between true and false.

Not only do they subscribe to the credo that there is only one answer to every problem, but they buy the nonsense that the answer can be dictated by an "aristocracy" of political big-shots who have climbed over one another's bodies to get to the top of the Marxist heap.

It does not bother them if the absolute of today becomes the heresy of tomorrow, as it frequently does in the Marxist madhouse.

In their view, there always must be one supreme Mr. Big who can decree what is so and what is not so, and it does not bother them when Mr. Big becomes anonymous and faceless. In that case, they call him Mr. Central Committee, or Mr. Ministry.

Poor Pasternak! It shouldn't happen to a dog, much less a Russian who looks into his own mind for the truth to win a Nobel Prize in literature. He should have looked into Khrushchev's mind, instead, or Stalin's, or Lenin's, or the mind of Marx, that befuddled genius of hate who mastered the knack and wrote the formula for setting brother against brother so absolutists could divide and rule mankind.

Poor Pasternak has only one solace. Long after the political absolutists and their satellites of science have been forgotten, whatever truth he found inside himself may be remembered, if he was lucky enough to find any.

How About Those School Levies?

When the heads of a number of American educational and research institutions returned from their survey of Russian education this year, they prepared a report.

Every voter who must decide on a school levy this year could profit by knowing what it says.

Russia puts a higher value on education than America, they agreed. It looks upon education as the means of improving Russian society and ultimately giving Russia world leadership. For this reason, it is prepared to pay both the human and financial cost to make the most of education.

Therefore, the United States must recognize what Russia is doing and expects to do in a contest for survival in a competitive world.

The most telling point in the report's summary deserves to be quoted in full. It is a pity it cannot be posted in every voting booth where citizens of the United States are called on to decide whether they will voluntarily do what is done in Russia by official decree.

"If we must live in competition with the Soviet Union," the report says, "every educator, legislator, alumnus, taxpayer, student and parent must develop a deeper appreciation of the values of higher education and be prepared to accept a greater commitment of his financial resources to higher education."

In the United States, education belongs to the people, not the government. They control it. They decide what it should cost and how much they want to spend for it.

They have the power to decide whether they want to live in competition with a nation that puts education first, or whether they are willing to drop out of competition over a matter of a few dollars apiece — the cost of school levies.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Soviet race horses are here for the international race. Complications are feared. If the Russian skinners lose a claim of foul it will go to the U.N Security Council.

Suppose in a photo finish with a Russian entry, an American horse gets the decision? This will increase world tensions, ring an exchange of notes between Ike and Nikita, and lead to warning from Red China that it will back Russia in any battle with official American racing results.

The November 11th race can bring on terrific world crisis and retard peace. Secretary Dulles may now have to fly into the horse racing situation.

If Soviet nags don't finish in the money Moscow is sure to demand a summit conference, charging the U.S. with overdoing track workouts and calling for a suspension of horse testing. We can see Mr. Zorin charging the U.S. with putting germs in Laurel oats.

HENRY CABOT LODGE will propose that Dag Hammarskjold look into the race horse crisis and report back to General Assembly. At some points in the debate the Indian delegate will introduce a resolution making it tougher for the free world horse tracks.

Mrs. Roosevelt will be interviewed and express opinion we must try to understand Moscow race horses better and initiate a broad jockey-exchange program.

Horse racing is the world's fastest spreading sport and players have increased all over the globe. This is a field which Russia may be anxious to penetrate. Horse players are notorious suckers for false propaganda and misleading statements.

Moscovite skinners in U.S. could be followed by Soviet form sheets, Red tipsters and enemy handicappers can cause chaos among horse bettors and undermine a great sector of the America economy.

(We fear for Russian jockeys. If they make bad showing at Laurel they are certain to be selected for first passengers in Soviet shot to moon experiments.)

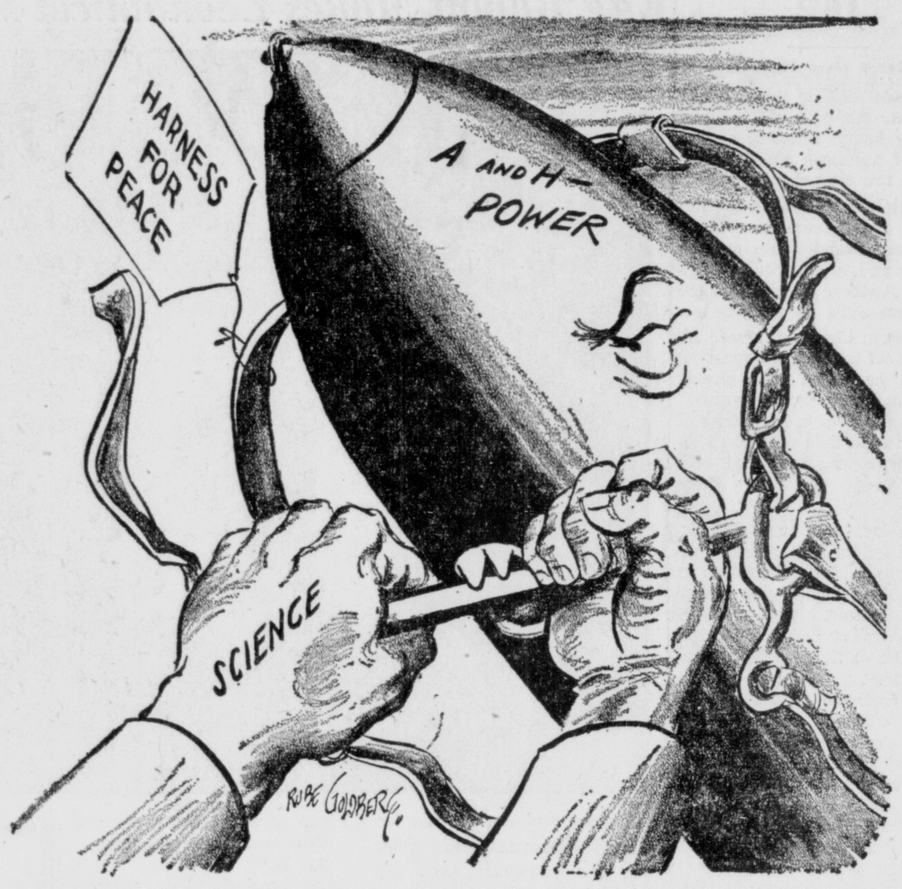
Needed More Than Ever



Labor Anxiously Awaits The Voting

By Victor Riesel

In one brief moment the other day on a windy New York street, the story of this bitter national election was telescoped into a short conversation as two men watched a parade. Republican gubernatorial candidate, Nelson Rockefeller, turned towards his good friend, but political opponent, New Dealing Ladies Garment Workers Union chief, David Dubinsky, and softly needled him with:

Victor Riesel

"Dave, I'm going to invade your garment territory and take those votes from you. Hope you don't mind."

Dubinsky, who doubles as New York's Liberal party leader, grinned and said something about seeing who'll get those votes—Rockefeller or Gov. Averell Harriman. Until then there had been no real labor blast at Rockefeller.

But soon anti-Rockefeller ads began to appear. A garment area mass meeting was scheduled by the union.

A SERIES of smaller rallies were penciled into the last hour calendar for District Attorney Frank Hogan and other Democratic - Liberal - labor nominees. Thus it went in the final campaign days in just a handful of New York precincts.

Thus it goes in 30,000 other precincts out of the 130,000 election areas across the United States—from the garment jungle to the Badlands of South Dakota, literally.

Not since 1944, when the target was Sidney Hillman, have the Republicans hit as hard at the labor leadership. And never before has the labor movement so openly and willingly taken on the Grand Old Party.

In thousands of precincts the Democrats seem to be standing on the sidelines watching the big game.

But the parallel with 1944 passes when you note that the only similarity is the substitution of Walter Reuther for Sidney Hillman and the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) for the old CIO Political Action Committee (PAC).

This time there is no central direction, no central headquarters on either side shooting and shouting at each other. The contests are local battles.

THE LABOR MACHINE, for example, is decentralized.

COPE, operating out of the sixth floor of the national AFL-CIO headquarters, has a national staff of only 50, ranging from the porter to the national director, James McDevitt. The old Hillman PAC had 180 in its New York headquarters alone.

COPE's main office coordinated, braintrusted, when necessary, and trained specialists—on a national budget of only $465,000 this year, according to its official report.

Daily it rings the telephone bells of union presidents, asking for money and getting mighty little of it.

This year, the money is being spent on local and state campaigns by local and state labor organizations. And never, but never, has labor been so well organized politically over so broad a base.

Wherever it could, labor operated quietly but effectively. Everywhere the local unions have told their national chiefs to stay out of their states so there could be no charge of invasion by "outsiders"—a charge which beat them in 1950 when they threw everything and everybody into the war on Robert Taft in Ohio.

IN THOUSANDS of precincts the pattern has been the same, for example, as in Wisconsin.

There the Wisconsin AFL-CIO is planning to install a battery of 380 telephones at strategic locations.

The official labor report says they expect to make 200,000 calls on Election Day in key, close districts. The calls, of course, will urge the registered labor members to come right out and vote.

A survey made as best one can in this sampling business reveals that each union expects to have as many or more autos in the Election Day car pools as they had in '56. This could mean anywhere up to 25,000 cars making swift round trips to voters' homes and the polling places.

In '56, for example, federal records show that unions used 2,200 autos in Cook County (Chicago) to get voters out on Election Day. In addition, there were 4,700 union men making door-to-door visits throughout the day.

Based on these records, labor will have thousands of baby sitters, coffee klatches and campaign headquarters parties going.

How the working guy will vote once the booth curtain shields him, no one can predict.

Conflicting Values

By Raymond Moley

Some weeks ago, I wrote in Newsweek Magazine an article in which I regretted the entry of clergymen of a number of denominations into the political campaign for and against legally sanctioned voluntary unionism. I shall in what follows summarize my reasons for holding this opinion.

Since clergymen are articulate people, I have had a number of letters from that profession disagreeing with me. Running through those letters is the refrain that since the question involves a moral issue, they have a right and duty to participate.

It seems to me, now on the eve of the election in a number of states in which this issue is to come before the electorate, that I have also a right and duty to offer the views of a professional commentator on political affairs.

In the first place, when an argument is made solely on moral right, the implication is that the other side has no moral ground. It becomes an issue of right versus wrong, black and white. "Are you against sin or for sin?" That sort of debate stirs emotions and prejudices that should have no part in a political debate.

THE FACT is that there are moral values on both sides of this question. On the one side is the right, in a free economy, for employers and their workers to make contracts free from unreasonable legal restrictions.

On the other is the right of a man to work at his trade without the compulsion of joining a union.

When there are two rights in conflict, material elements must be considered which are not within the realm of morals.

Granting that unions are desirable in economic life, must they be maintained by compulsion, in which a minority of the workers involved have no choice?

Have laws outlawing compulsory union membership actually injured the union movement?

As a practical matter, is it not better that union leadership be kept on its toes making membership attractive and desirable, rather than to give that leadership a monopoly power in the business or trade involved?

Such activity to hold membership voluntarily is a needful tonic for any organization—be it a trade union, a trade association of businesses, or a church.

SO FAR AS the "free rider" argument is concerned — that is, the quite reasonable contention that a worker who gets the benefit of collective bargaining should give to support the collective effort—there is a clear answer.

I would be willing as an employer to require as a condition of employment that a worker contribute an amount to a union, with or without membership, which covers the legitimate cost of the service of collective bargaining.

That plan was, in fact, offered a year or more ago by the Santa Fe Railway to a number of unions, members of which were working for it. But it made it clear that those dues were not to be used for political activity which was entirely outside the business of collective bargaining.

The union leaders rejected the offer, thus making clear that they wanted enforced contributions from all members, who might be of both political parties, to a single party or candidates selected by those leaders.

In fact, in a case decided by the Supreme Court in connection with a right-to-work law in one state, the Supreme Court made a clear distinction between money used for the normal purposes of a union and the political activities which are so characteristic of many of them.

This is a point that is missed in much of the argument over voluntary unionism, and a very vital one. For the political as well as the economic rights of a worker are violated when he is forced to give money to a political purpose to which he is opposed.

I would like to have my friends in the clergy who believe they have all right on their side to consider this point.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

If I were running this country, I'd put up public billboards for political advertisements and tell campaigners to put up or shut up, meaning there would be a fine of $5 for every political poster tacked up on a utility pole or pasted on a light standard.

It amuses me that color-prejudiced football fans find it easy to forget their prejudice because a football helmet conceals most of its wearer's face.

Stories of mine disasters give me the creeps, for the same reason I never have been able to finish fiction about human beings who are buried alive.

One of the things you have to give the Kremlin credit for is knowing how to turn its handicaps to advantage, as when it gets front-page publicity all over the world for starting to do what elsewhere is taken for granted, such as clearing alcoholics out of the gutter.

The most widely misunderstood thing about elections in the United States, it seems to me, is their purely emotional nature. Most Americans prefer to think elections are contests in logic and reason and consequently are disenchanted whenever they get a face full of political malarkey.

My full and unqualified support will be given to anyone who will start a movement to make Thanksgiving fall on the next-to-the-last Monday of November, instead of on the last Thursday, the poorest day of the week for a holiday.

All bluster about stopping inflation is futile, as far as I'm concerned, until the 12 most powerful union executives in the United States sign a resolution that they will direct all future bargaining teams to concentrate on the buying power of wages, instead of ever-increasing wage rates paid in ever-cheaper dollars.

I have a hunch the research in glass to build a nose cone for outer-space rockets will prove to be more important in the long run than the rockets.

Letters To The Editor

Another Analysis Of Right-To-Work Issue

As officers of Local Union 696, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, we wish to inform our friends and neighbors of the community concerning our viewpoints about the amendment which will be voted on during the coming election on Nov. 4 known as Issue No. 2.

We represent the physical workers of the Ohio Power Co. in the area of Barnesville, Bellaire, Cadiz, Dillonvale, East Liverpool and Steubenville, certified by the National Labor Relations Board of Cleveland by a secret ballot vote in 1950.

1.—The Right To Work — No union can give anyone the right to work (building trades union excepted). This right is given to you by the employer when hired, and if a union represents the workers on his property, the new employe is informed by management that a union has been certified (under the Taft-Hartley Law or Wagner Act) to represent him if he wishes to join after a probationary period.

2.—Forced Compulsory Unionism —There are three types of union contracts. (a) Closed Shop — This is where only union members may be hired. (Used exclusively by building trades and craft unions) and has been declared illegal by the Taft-Hartley Law since 1947 and cannot be used at any time regardless without coming in violation of this law. If this type of contract is in force, it is done by the union and management representatives with both parties violating the law. This union does not have this type of contract.

(b) Union Security Clause—Management and union have to negotiate this type of contract and, if agreed, management informs any person he hires that this type of contract is in force. If prospective employe desires to work under this contract, he will be required to join the union after the probationary period. This local does not have this type of contract.

(c) Maintenance of Membership Clause — This means that management and union have agreed that after the contract has been signed, those persons who are members of the union will have to remain as members for the duration of the contract, normally a period of one year. This local union does not have this type of contract.

As stated, L. U. 696 is a certified union in compliance with the law. The fact that some employes have not joined (reasons of their own) we cannot force them to join and we cannot have them fired. They receive all benefits as other union members.

Yet, if a non-member has a grievance to process, under the Taft-Hartley Law, the Local Union must act accordingly without cost or obligation of said employe. Thus the law provides the necessary procedures for employes to be certified by the NLRB or to decertify the union, both by secret ballot.

In the by-laws of Local Union 696, IBEW, we provide a secret ballot to all members whether or not they attend the meeting — full voting privileges such as election of officers, change of by-laws, matters of controversy, negotiation procedures, change of dues, etc. Can we be more democratic than this?

3. — It Will Eliminate Corruption — It is a known fact that all honest labor officials are in favor of a law to eliminate corruption but the Right-to-Work Amendment as proposed will not under any circumstances do this.

The National Association of Manufacturers and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce have published pamphlets and made broadcasts which are somewhat confusing to the public, especially Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen. They have spent $150,000,000 to promote the Right-to-Work Amendment.

On the other side of the picture, the Committee On Political Education of the IBEW has received voluntary donations from the state of Ohio amounting only to $456, as no money can be spent from union treasuries for politics. (also illegal under the law). How does this compare with the millions spent by NAM?

The Right-To-Work Law will prohibit management and labor committees to negotiate a union security clause or a maintainance of membership clause at the bargaining table. It may eliminate dues deduction from the payroll which has been a negotiated item. Collective bargaining rights are the working man's given rights and these anti-labor forces prohibit the working man from using them.

In conclusion, quoting from Truman's address, IBEW Convention, Cleveland: "The union shop is a good thing. Why should a state be permitted to reach out into the federal field of interstate commerce and rule to the contrary? Why should state laws against the union itself be given precedence over the federal law favoring a union shop? The union shop is one of the oldest and most respected goals of the labor movement.

"It has been organized labor that led the fight for better schools, minimum wage hour and eight-hour day, unemployment and disability benefits, old age pensions, etc. Some people will say they are against union shops, but they are for unions. It is like saying you are for motherhood and don't like children. In other words, also, why do the unions want the union shop? The answer is simple. The union shop permits the union to settle down to its economic business of wages, working conditions and grievances — and to make its contribution to the stability and progress of the economy. The union shop is good for the employer as well as the workers—and enlightened employers know this."

Therefore, we, the undersigned Officers of L. U. 696, IBEW urge your support to vote no on Issue No. 2 Nov. 4.

Objections Raised To City Income Tax

Soon we will vote on a city income tax law. I try to keep an open mind on these issues, but sometimes find it hard to do.

Before the council hired an out-of-town firm to set up the machinery for the city income tax plan I protested the hiring of an out-of-town firm. I was told by councilmen that local firms did not want the job.

Now since this time I have made some study of the city tax law, the state constitution and the United States Constitution, and find that some points of the city tax law strike me as being illegal.

This law taxes out-of-town residents. Can we give these people equal fire, police, sanitary and other protection that will be received by local citizens?

What does it mean items of income already taxed by the state of Ohio? Is not all income earned in Ohio taxed by the state?

How many times can we be made to pay income tax by federal, state, county, or local government?

Is it legal to impose income tax on income tax?

What does Section 13 of this ordinance mean? Are not the authors of this law, the mayor, or the City Council sure what is or is not legal? Why wasn't this law written as it was to be apply without a section that would make it seem like it could mean anything, everything, or nothing at all?

Aside from these items, I wonder if the real purpose of this law is or is not to support an out-of-town man who was hired as safety director?

It is interesting to note at the end of legal notices seeking bids for city work are the words "the right is reserved to reject any or all bids." Does this not give the safety director much power over our spending?

I believe a much better tax plan could have been written by local people. I believe the spending of this money should be handled by local people.

Sights, Sounds And Lessons

A Lady Known As Paris

By SAUL PETT

PARIS (AP)—This late in the age of flight, it is tres gauche to admit you've never been to Paris before. But let's be gauche. I haven't been here before, and you probably haven't either.

Here are some sights, sounds, and lessons absorbed by a gauche American on his first trip to Paris:

All the cliches are true. Paris is unique. Paris is heady, confusing, thieving, utterly charming.

London and Londoners seem to invite the visitor's respect for their tradition, their history, their gallantry under fire. Paris and Parisians don't seem to give a hoot about winning your respect. Save that for the museums, they seem to say; jump in, Jacques, the wine's fine. Live a little and let others worry about history and dignity.

So much to see, so much to hear.

The sweeping boulevards, the narrow streets, the grilled balconies, the old window shutters, the book stalls along the Seine, the nuns visiting Notre Dame, the jumbled rock garden of rooftops.

The haughty sex of the beautiful, chic women, the red-cheeked men in tight pants, short broad-shouldered jackets, the men arguing over their wine in a sidewalk cafe, the street walkers with eyes that miss nothing.

The girl tenderly stroking her lover's cheek while waiting for a bus, the bus drivers in their long white butcher coats, the buyer and seller in the Central Market haggling over prices at 5 a.m., screaming on the verge of homicide and then suddenly coming to terms over a cognac before breakfast.

In Paris, it seems, no one is neutral, indifferent or perfunctory. One must do everything with passion—live, love, eat, walk, drink, shop, drive.

Ah, the driving. Parisians do not drive to get some place. They drive to win an argument. Paris is the only city I've seen where a man on a bicycle will try to elbow a bus onto the sidewalk.

For the American tourist worried about money in Paris, it is most important to relax. It is inevitable he will be taken completely, and he might as well smile. About the only one in Paris who doesn't have a hand out is Venus de Milo.

But you no longer have to guess about the cab fare. The little cabs in Paris now have meters on the outside. This is the greatest concession to international peace that has been wrung out of the French since Napoleon was racked up at Waterloo.

Never worry about how much to tip in Paris. If you don't tip enough, you will soon hear about it from the cabdriver, waiter, or bellhop. The rule is simple. Start with 50 francs and keep adding to it until the driver, waiter or bellhop no longer seems to be in excruciating pain. This is most important. Look only for the absence of pain and stop tipping immediately. If he smiles, you know you've overtipped. If he thanks you, count your jewelry.

38 CITIES IN OHIO
Are Progressing With And Enjoying Benefits Of
CITY INCOME TAX

Yes, the 38 Ohio cities shown on this map are enjoying the benefits of a City Income Tax, including East Liverpool! The city councils of each of these cities enacted the original ordinance and only 12 of these cities required a public vote — and every one passed by a wide margin in the last election. For the sake of East Liverpool's progress and for the sake of all the services and improvements that citizens normally expect from the city administration— East Liverpool MUST do as other Ohio cities have done. VOTE FOR THE CITY INCOME TAX!

TYPICAL COMMENTS FROM CITIZENS OF OTHER OHIO CITIES WITH CITY INCOME TAX:

(AS PUBLISHED IN AREA NEWSPAPERS)

BARBERTON—City Auditor terms tax a "godsend."
BOWLING GREEN — "Voted in by people; we like it."
BREWSTER—"Now in fourth year; paid for Sewage Disposal Plant; makes it needless to issue bonds."
CAMPBELL — "Has paid for Water Works and Sewage Plant operation; Garbage collection."
CANTON — Mayor says — "I'd hate to be without it"; Revenue has paid for city's share of $15 million expressway, paved streets, 19 additional police, police and fire Department equipment.
CHILLICOTHE — "Harshly received at first; but when submitted to vote, passed easily by good majority . . . industry favors it."
COLUMBUS — 'We'll end '57 a Half-Million in black . . . saved the city . . . the greatest step any city could take." (CIO opposition termed "Feeble).
DAYTON — "Greatest step we could take . . . the only solution to financial problems."
DEFIANCE — "Can't see how we'd operate without it."
FOSTORIA — "We have the best streets of any city in Ohio now."
FREMONT — "City led a hand-to-mouth existence; had to borrow money to meet city payroll; now out of debt; have made capital improvements."
GALION — "Have installed 2 trunk sewers; improved streets; resurfaced 113 blocks."
IRONTON — "Tax revenue has given people so much, they haven't asked referendum."
ST. BERNARD — "Have built city Swimming Pool, incinerator, improved streets."
YOUNGSTOWN — "Tax is a necessity"; used for salaries, general improvements.

Excerpts from a letter by Ray Thomas, Financial Secretary, Carpenters' Local No. 1935, Delegate Central Labor Union, published in the Akron Beacon Journal Oct. 29, 1954:

Here is what labor in Toledo thinks of the income tax:

R. J. Flory, secretary, Toledo Central Labor Union (AFL) wrote in a letter, Feb. 19, to Mayor Carson: "Summing up the experience under the payroll-income tax, let me express it this way — the people employed by the city are enjoying a fair wage scale, and we are rapidly approaching the type of a city that we all want to live in and by the wildest stretch of the imagination, could not have had without the payroll-income tax."

The CIO Toledo Industrial Union Council Executive Secretary, H. M. Redinger, wrote: "My opinion is that the workers are aware that all of us must pay taxes and that they want to pay their share."

In Dayton when the tax came up the second time, not one organization opposed it. All the labor unions joined the committee for the tax."

Observance On Formosa

Fireworks, Music Mark Chiang's 72nd Birthday

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist Chinese marked the birthday of President Chiang Kai-shek today with noisy fireworks and music on Formosa.

On Quemoy occasional Communist shells fell and there was one brisk artillery exchange.

Newspapers ran special birthday editions and radio stations blared "Happy Birthday" songs all day. There were parades, speeches and bands.

Chiang, who still hopes to sweep the graves of his ancestors at Chikow, in Chekiang province, spent the day in seclusion with friends.

By the Chinese system of reckoning, which considers a child two years old at the first anniversary of his birth, this was his 72nd birthday. It was his ninth on Formosa, since he lost the mainland.

Chiang has renounced force as the chief instrument of his return to the mainland. But he still believes a Hungarian-type revolt fused with support from Formosa someday will topple the Red regime.

For the Communists this was the third odd-numbered day of unrestricted shooting in their partial cease-fire proclaimed last weekend. The Reds say that on even-numbered days they will exempt the harbor and airstrip from their artillery fire to permit landing of supplies.

The Defense Ministry said 62 shells had hit the Quemoys between daybreak and noon. This was a far cry from the 41,000 rounds the Nationalists said were fired Aug. 23 when the Reds opened their artillery offensive.

Tight Rein Due On Vandalism In City Tonight

The police department will intensify its patrols throughout East Liverpool tonight to curb destructive Halloween pranks caused by a small minority of older youths, Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti warned.

"The great majority of the children have behaved themselves well," the director said. "But there has been an increasing number of cases of destructive vandalism caused by a hoodlum element of older youths."

"Tonight we will 'take the gloves off'—there will be constant patrols by police to hold down on vandalism," the director said. "Unless the members of this minority behave themselves, they will be in the detention room.

"Those who behave as hoodlums will be treated as such."

Pre-Halloween vandalism that started here early in October has been marked mainly by smashing windows in homes and schools. Many cars have been stripped of accessories, but mostly in cases that were theft rather than pranks.

Only one new case of vandalism was reported. James Wilson, 417 Vine St., told police Thursday his 1956 auto was "marked with an unknown substance" while parked in front of his home Wednesday night or early yesterday.

Driver Hurt When Rig Hits Underpass Pillar

A driver of a tractor-trailer rig was hospitalized early this morning after his truck crashed headlong into the center pillar of the underpass at Yellow Creek on Route 7, the Wintersville State Highway Patrol reported today.

Fred B. DeHart, 34, of Saint Albans, W. Va., was admitted at City Hospital at 6 this morning after his tractor rig crashed into the stone pillar because of brake failure, he told the patrol.

DeHart suffered a possible fractured ankle and lacerations of the right leg in the crash at 4 a. m. A passenger, Charles Burns Jr., 27, of Scott Depot, W. Va., was treated at City Hospital for a laceration of the forehead and a possible back injury and was released. DeHart was driving south, officers said.

The accident is still under investigation, the patrol said. The vehicle was totally wrecked.

Few motorists realize that about three-fourths of their fuel is composed of the oxygen extracted from the air as they travel along the highway. It is through the union of the oxygen with the carbon and hydrogen of the gas line that furnishes the power - giving heat.

Officer At Rochester Faces Extortion Count

John Gabauer, acting Rochester police captain, was arrested by Pennsylvania State Police Thursday on charges of extortion involving an overweight truck case.

He posted bond for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Francis Zuck of North Sewickley Township. The time will be set later. Charges were filed by John H. Shaw of Clarion.

Gabauer was on duty when the alleged offense took place, Richard P. Stewart, Beaver County district attorney, said today.

James Camp, Rochester burgess, said Gabauer has a leave of absence until the case is settled. He said Gabauer "was one of the best officers."

Annexation Case Set

LISBON — Commissioners have set Monday, Nov. 24, at 11 a. m. for a second hearing on a request to annex some Hanoverton Township territory to the village of Hanoverton. After looking over the area, the commisisoners decided on a new hearing "because of the controversial nature" of the request.

Boston Wingman Serves Notice On Montreal Scorers

By The Associated Press

Jerry Toppazzini, 27-year old veteran Boston wingman, has served notice he doesn't intend to let the Montreal Canadiens carry off all the laurels in the National Hockey League.

Toppazzini, Boston's star in last season's Stanley Cup playoffs, scored one of the Bruins' goals Thursday night as they defeated Chicago 5-2 and tied Montreal's Maurice (Rocket) Richard for league goal scoring honors. Each has seven.

The result gave Boston undisputed possession of second place. The Detroit Red Wings defeated New York 4-1 in the other game and moved into the third spot as the Rangers dropped to fourth.

Toppazzini's goal was one of three the Bruins scored within a span of 91 seconds in the first period as the Black Hawks dropped their sixth straight game.

Frick Leaves For Venezuela Today On Good Neighbor Trip

NEW YORK (AP) — A man placed a neat red box on Ford Frick's desk. Inside were two baseballs, properly autographed by the 1958 World Series teams. Each rested on a shiny silver dollar, nestled in a plush lining.

"These are for the president of Venezuela," said Frick who leaves today on a good neighbor trip to Caracas. The rest of the cast, including six ball players, will follow next week.

The commissioner of baseball is just getting back into the groove after an attack of appendicitis that forced him to miss the World Series. He lost 10 pounds during his illness.

"I hope to keep it off, too," said Frick who is finishing the first year of his second seven-year term.

Because of his appendectomy, Frick was home in Bronxville, N.Y., watching on television while the series was being played. It was the first he missed as a commissioner and the first time in many years as a former newspaper man and league president that he had not been on the series scene.

"I'm going down (to Caracas) by boat — for the rest — and the others are going to fly down next week," said Frick. "They already are playing winter ball down there. I will make some talks and help them on the organization end. The players and others will work with the kids on the sandlots and in the playgrounds."

Richie Ashburn of Philadelphia, the National League batting champ, Elston Howard of New York, Pete Runnels of Boston, Dick Groat and Bob Friend of Pittsburgh and Gus Triandos of Baltimore are the players. Frankie Frisch, the old Fordham flash and former manager, Cal Hubbard, umpire supervisor of the American League, and Buck Canel, a sportscaster, are the others.

Lane's Hoping Yanks, Senators Complete Deal

CLEVELAND (AP) —Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane said today he hopes the New York Yankees and Washington Senators complete a trade rumored Thursday night.

According to a story in the New York Daily News, the world champions of baseball have offered pitcher Johnny Kucks and Tom Sturdivant plus infielder Bobby Richardson for Washington pitcher Pedro Ramos, a right-hander who won 14 and lost 18 for the last place Senators in 1958.

The Tribe general manager believes he would have a better chance of obtaining Richardson from the Senators than the Yanks.

Southern Seniors Golf Paced By Defending Champ

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — Defending champion J. W. Brown of Sea Girt, N. J., held a five-stroke lead going into today's final round of the 54-hole Southern Seniors Golf Tournament.

Brown, who won the North and South Seniors tourney here last week, held a one-stroke edge after the first 18-hole round Wednesday, firing a 71. Leon Sikes of Palm Beach, Fla. had a 72. Both played poorer golf Thursday, but Brown's 75 left him on top with 146 and Sikes skied to 79, holding second place with 151.

Strung out behind the leaders: R. E. Duke, Raleigh, 74-78—152; Thomas Robbins, Pinehurst, 77-75—152; R. R. Bell, Worthington, Ohio, 74-79—153; R. S. Foley, Stoneville, N. C., 78-75—153; R. F. Zammiello, Gastonia, N. C., 73-82—155; A. H. Reed, Cleveland Heights, Ohio, 75-80—155; Dr. G. H. Kistler, Chattanooga, Tenn., 79-76—155; W. E. Norvell, Chattanooga, Tenn., 78-77-155.

Road Costs In County Now At $2,651,222

Division Engineer's Report Shows State Budgets $3,500,000

The State Highway Department spent $2,651,222 on road construction and improvement in Columbiana County in 1957 and 1958 and already has budgeted $3,530,000 for the first half of 1959, William E. Quicksall, division engineer, said today at New Philadelphia.

Construction of the first stage of a California Hollow-West End freeway in East Liverpool will account for $3,450,000 of the amount the state expects to spend in the county in the first six months of next year, Quicksall explained.

It also has earmarked $80,000 for construction of a tenth of a mile of roadway in Leetonia, part of a flood relief project, he said.

Another $10 million will be spent in the 1959-60 biennium for construction of the first stretch of a four-lane East Liverpool-Ashtabula Freeway, Quicksall pointed out. Starting at the city limits in California Hollow, the first stage will stretch to the junction of the Y. & O. Rd. at Sub-station.

Highway work in Columbiana County in 1958 included $381,222 for a section of the so-called Yellow Creek project on Route 7 south of Wellsville; $1,203,000 to relocate Route 45 midway Salem and Lisbon and $550,000 to relocate Route 164 south of Lisbon.

All three of the major jobs are still under construction. The figure on the Route 7 project covers only the money spent on the section in Columbiana County.

An $80,820 project on State Route 344 at Franklin Square was completed in July and an $82,300 job to renovate and widen Route 172 near the Stark County line is scheduled for completion in November.

Projects completed in 1957 totaled $354,000, Quicksall said. They were a $26,000 job to renovate Route 170 near Unity and a $328,000 project on Routes 164 and 518 north and south of Lisbon and at the junction of the two routes.

In addition, the Highway Department spent $815,789 in the two years for resurfacing and surface treatment—$490,694 on 56 miles of highway in 1957 and $325,095 on 36 miles in 1958.

The overall outlay in the county in the two years hit $3,491,116, Quicksall added.

He said $9,223 was spent on the new Morgan Monument park on Route 518 near West Point, $8,249 went for road repair at Guilford Lake, $3,104 was spent to repaint 9 bridges and repainting of 13.17 miles of guardrail cost $3,409.

Resurfacing work "being considered for future programming" includes Route 170 at Calcutta, Route 644 between Salineville and Summitville, Route 518 from Gavers to Millport, Route 154 at Elkton and Route 172 west from Route 9, he said. The Route 518 project would be a "salt stabilization," preparing the roadbed for future hard surface.

Major resurfacing work in 1958 covered Route 62 from Damascus east to Salem; Route 45 in Wellsville and north to West Point; Route 558 at East Fairfield and east through East Palestine, and Route 30 from Cannons Mills east to near West Point.

Home Superintendent Test Seen Next Year

LISBON—A Civil Service examination for the post of superintendent at the Columbiana County Home may not be held until early next year, according to word received by the county commissioners.

The commissioners asked the Ohio Civil Service Commission for an eligibility list and it replied it has a full schedule for the next two months.

It said it will notify the commissioners when and where the examination will be held as soon as possible.

Russell V. Phillis, formerly of Salem R. D. 3, is serving as provisional superintendent, appointed after Ray Adam of Lisbon resigned Sept. 1 after 17 years service.

The post pays $250 per month with quarters and board furnished and the superintendent may appoint the matron, whose salary is $150.

Phillis' wife is acting matron.

Decorations Completed For Halloween Dance

The student committee of Midland's Hi-Spot Youth Center has completed decorations for the Jack O'Lantern ball to be held Saturday night at the Borough Building, Mrs. William Spisak, director, announced.

The dance will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 for members and guests, all in the 13-19 age group. Stan Scott, WSTV Channel 9 Teen-Time disc jockey, will spin records. He will bring guest entertainment.

Refreshments will include cider, doughnuts and pizza. There will be prizes for costumes.

A donation from the proceeds will be made to the UNICEF program of the Westminster Fellowship Class of the First Presbyterian Church for the second year.

Misses Fund Goal

CLEVELAND (AP) — The first United Appeal in greater Cleveland raised $11,073,824 but missed its goal by $276,175. The figure was 97.6 of the goal and was the most ever raised here for health and welfare purposes.

Tax Case Gets 'Equal' Airing

East End Group Has Panel Discussion

"Not one of your elected officials mentioned an income tax or any other kind of a tax in his campaign," Finlay said. "Once these taxes are put on, they stay. There's a lot of comment about the fact this tax can be voted out in three years. Why wait three years? Let's do it now!"

"If the people had been given a proper sales talk, they would have voted for this tax, but it was crammed down their throats," Finlay asserted.

—:—

"WE ARE Americans. We are unused to this sort of thing—the man on the sidelines saying 'you must pay this whether you want to or not'."

Finlay asserted that East Liverpool "has gotten along all these years without this tax."

"Once you give politicans money, they never know when to stop," he added. He also read from an AFL-CIO memorandum that he said warned that the Eisenhower administration may ask Congress to enact a manufacturers' sales tax in the next session.

Mayor Lawrence explained Council and the administration decided upon the income tax "as the most equitable way of raising the revenue the city needed to provide the necessary services and put East Liverpool on the road to expansion and attraction of new industry."

"EAST LIVERPOOL has been criticized for its backwardness," he said, recalling a speech made to the Rotary Club a few years ago by E. L. Wheatley, IBOP president, in which he said the town had not changed in the 20 years he was away.

He emphasized that the tax is collected on wages, salaries, bonuses and business income, including chain stores owned by out-of-town stockholders.

He asserted there was nothing illegal or improper in the way Council enacted the tax. Taxing power is conferred on Council by law just as it is allowed to the State Legislature or the Congress, he added.

"Did anyone in the room have a vote on the federal income tax or the Ohio 3 per cent sales tax?" he asked. "The answer is 'No'."

—:—

ATTY. ARONSON declared the levy amounts to "taxation without representation" for non-city residents who work here and must pay the tax.

"If a man works here but lives outside the city, where does he get a right to vote on this issue or the councilmen who enacted it?" he asked.

"This is a creeping tax that will engulf every city in the nation unless someone has the courage to stop it," the attorney continued. "The tax hits the poor man hardest. If a man is working two days a week, where is he going to get the money to pay it, even if it is only 10 cents?"

He said the tax will not help encourage new industry to locate here because "they don't want to put a plant in a city that has an income tax."

—:—

HE RECALLED that both the federal income tax and the state sales tax were enacted as temporary emergency measures but both still are being collected.

In the rebuttal session, the mayor read a quotation from Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh at the time he signed an income tax into law.

It said in part: "'We're not under the illusion that anyone loves a tax, but I'm sure Council has acted in the best interests of the city. We could have dodged the whole issue and plunged the city into debt, but that is the demagogue's solution'."

Referring to the "taxation without representation" charge, he said: "The non-residents who work here use the city services like fire and police protection without making any contribution to their upkeep. I'm sure they don't object to paying their share."

—:—

IN THE REBUTTAL, Aronson said the tax will encourage people to move out of East Liverpool if they live in rented homes or house trailers. He also declared that the public will pay indirectly the share of the income tax levied on business profits because businessmen will add it onto their prices.

A question-and-answer period followed. Clyde Christian, president, conducted the meeting and Warren Lincoln served as moderator.

These Tafts Speak Out Against 'Right-to-Work' Laws

The Late Senator Robert A. Taft

"I myself came to the conclusion that since there had been for such a long time so many union shops in the United States, since in many trades it was entirely customary and had worked satisfactorily, I at least was not willing to go to the extent of abolishing the possibility of a union shop contract. It seemed to me that (instead) we should meet the problem of dealing with the abuses which have appeared.

". . . I think it would be a mistake to go to the extreme of absolutely outlawing a contract which provides for a union shop."

Excerpts from remarks by Senator Robert A. Taft in opposing an amendment to the Taft-Hartley Act which would have provided for a national so-called "right-to-work" law. (Congressional Record, p. 4885-6, May 9, 1947.)

Charles P. Taft, former Mayor of Cincinnati

"I am interested in the freedom of the individual worker, too, but I see every reason why he should pay something for the representation he receives when the union lawfully designated by vote of the workers bargains for him. I see no reason for the 'free rider.'

"The intent of these ('right-to-work') acts is clearly anti-union, as anyone knows who has talked to the overwhelming majority of those who favor them."

Excerpts from remarks by Charles P. Taft before the American Baptist Convention, June 17, 1958. Mr. Taft is vice president of the National Council of Churches.

The Late President Wm. H. Taft

"Labor unions were organized out of the necessity of the situation. A single employee was helpless in dealing with an employer. If the employer refused to pay him the wage he thought fair, he was nevertheless unable to leave the employ and resist arbitrary and unfair treatment. Union was essential to give laborers opportunity to deal on equality with their employer."

Ex-President Taft, father of Robert and Charles Taft, wrote the above when he was Chief Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court. (See American Steel Foundries Co. vs. Tri-City Trades Council, 1912 decisions.)

Whether or not you are in tune with the Tafts, you have a personal stake in defeating Issue 2, the so-called "right-to-work" amendment. Stripped of its empty promises, it stands bared as a fraudulent measure which would hurt virtually ALL Ohioans—businessmen, farmers, housewives, working folks. It aims not to cleanse but to destroy. Under "right-to-work" you have nothing to gain, much to lose.

Vote X NO on issue 2 trick-titled 'right-to-work'

Lisbon's Fund Drive Only $120 From Goal

LISBON—The Community Chest fund drive is just $120 short of the goal of $6,980, according to Twing Hiscox, treasurer.

The drive began Oct. 6 and last week the trustees extended the deadline to Saturday with the hope of going over the top.

Nine agencies will share and any excess funds will be prorated, Hiscox said.

Midland Planning Project Discussed By Rotary Guest

Jack Wilson, representative of Morris Knowles, Inc., Pittsburgh engineers, spoke on Midland's general comprehensive plan for community development at the meeting of the Midland Rotary Club at Larry's Restaurant Thursday night.

Wilson illustrated the need for such a plan by comparing Midland with a modern business which must have research into the past and survey present conditions to be a success.

He said that such phases as land use, population trends, schools, finances and traffic are being studied and that the plan is now in the diagnostic stage.

When all the information is acquired, it will be made public, turned over to the Midland Borough Council and to other groups. "It is most important that the public be informed," he said.

Dr. Zanvel Sigal, club program chairman and chairman of Midland's Planning Commission working with Wilson, introduced the guest speaker.

William Moll, counselor at the Rotary District Institute held Oct. 20 at the Edgewood Country Club at Pittsburgh, gave a report. He said that 139 Rotarians attended and represented 47 of the 49 district clubs.

David Schwerha, president, and Homer Paul, vice president, also attended the institute.

Mrs. William Spisak, director of the Hi-Spot Youth Center, made a request for chaperones for the center's coming events. Those who volunteered were R. E. Steebner, Moll, Ray Stowitzky, Dr. Sigal and Williams Walters. Walters will serve Saturday night for the Jack O'Lantern ball.

"Happy Birthday" was sung for Frank Meredith, who recently celebrated his anniversary. Members will be guests of the Lions Club at annual dinner Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at Deramo's Restaurant.

Carnegie Library Prepares For Book Week Observance

"Explore With Books" is the theme for National Book Week starting Sunday in libraries and bookstores and Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said the Carnegie Public Library observance will include a special display of new children's books offering gift suggestions for the Christmas season.

The library also invites teenagers to explore the field of art to be found between the covers of the following:

"Magazine Illustration," the art editor's point of view by Edward Leech; "Watercolour—the Hows and Whys" by Edgar Whitney; "Modern Prints and Drawings" a guide to the better understanding of draughtsmanship by Paul Sachs, and "Dictionary of Abstract Painting" by Michel Seuphor.

Adventure in the world of nature can be enchanced by perusing the following volumes:

"Getting Acquainted With Minerals" by George English and David Jensen; "How About the Weather?" a revised edition by Robert Moore Fisher; "Cloud Study," a pictorial guide by Ludlam and Scorer of the Royal Meterological Society, and "The Complete Book of Hunting" by Larry Koller.

Travel in civilized places can satisfy the exploring instincts of most. Two guides for the common man are Keith Jennison's "New Hampshire" and Willard Price's "Roaming Britain," which affords the reader information, thrills, and chuckles.

The uncommon man will more likely be excited by Heinz Randow's "Zoo Hunt In Ceylon." Carlo Levi gives impressions of Sicily in "Words are Stones."

Fiction can spin an illusion of adventure as proven by the following trio of books:

The setting is Spain in the "The Longest Way Round" by Burt Cole; a West Indian island in "The Telemann Touch" by William Haggard, and Honolulu in "Harbor of Little Boats" by William Huntsberry.

Three well known authors lead to sure fire entertainment in these books:

"Victorine," another Louisana romance by Frances Parkinson Keyes; "After the Glory" which deals with Civil War conflicts, — the author is Helen Topping Miller, and the youthful Elizabeth the First is the heroine of F. W. Kenyon's "Shadow In the Sun."

Fort those who lack the time to read but love to browse—cartoons and house plans are a never-ending source of pleasure: Cliff May has edited a new Sunset Book of Western ranch houses. Phyllis McGinley has edited cartoon drawn for the Ladies Home Journal, "Never Underestimate the Power of a Women" and Stanley and Janice Berenstain provide the last word in animal husbandry in "Lover Boy."

Boy Killed By Auto

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—An automobile struck and killed 8-year-old Gerald Brandenburg near his home in Amelia Thursday night. The boy suffered a fractured skull and fractures of both legs.

137 To Share In Judgment Of $137,500

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A judgment of $137,500 will be shared by 117 employes, former and present, of the Ecko Products Co. at Byesville in Guernsey County.

John S. Johns, district director of the United Steelworkers Union, said this will be one of the largest distributions of back pay in the history of the National Labor Relations Board. He said the payment was provided in a consent decree filed in U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago.

The judgment stems from an unfair labor practices charge filed against Ecko Products by the Steelworkers Nov. 20, 1951.

Under terms of the decree, Ecko will deposit the money in escrow in a Cleveland bank and distribution will be determined by John A. Hull Jr., regional NLRB director.

Ecko also must offer 88 former employes reinstatement to former or equivalent positions and is ordered to stop discouraging membership in any labor organization by discharging employes for strike activity or by rehiring strikers as new employes, thus wiping out any seniority gains.

The Steelworkers Union struck at Ecko Aug. 13, 1951, seeking recognition as a bargaining unit. The company told striking employes they would be replaced if they did not return to work.

The union secured a union shop contract with Ecko in 1956 and also represents workers at the company's Canton and Massillon plants.

Youth, Girl He Plans To Wed Join Service

CHICAGO (AP) — Leonard W. Faifner, 19, has joined the Army and his girl friend, whom he intends to marry, has enlisted with him.

Both Faifner and Glorida Jean Gosnell, 18, enlisted for three years. Faifner said he hopes to make a career in the Army. Miss Gosnell said she was joining the Woman's Army Corps so she can learn more about her boy friend's career and thus make a better Army wife.

Faifner will go to Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and Miss Gosnell to Ft. McClellan, Ala. They hope to be assigned to the same station—sometime.

Bringing Up A Family

Helping Child Acquire Forcefulness In Speech

Nothing seems to help an adult more to feel comfortable in the company of others than to be able to say, with ease and forcefulness, what he wishes to say. Ability to express himself well proves useful to him when he is a member of a committee, chairman of a meeting or participant in serious discussion with any group. As a person grows more skillful at verbal expression, he not only feels more comfortable as he speaks but this growing comfortableness helps him speak still better thereafter.

By Garry Meyers

SUPPOSE you are a young parent and hope that your child, barely 2, will grow up able to express himself forcefully and comfortably. Strive first to cultivate effective verbal expression in yourself by observing the speech of others who speak well and by constant reading.

Read to this child a great deal till long past the time he enters school. There's no better way to improve your own verbal expression also.

Good stories for young children are written clearly and directly. It is wonderful, as other children are added to the family, if each older one will read aloud often to the younger brother or sister.

As your child begins speech and grows older, be a good listener with your eyes as well as ears. Also, look at him as you speak to him. Strive to help your growing children feel comfortable as they speak in the family circle privately or when there are guests.

DO ALL you can to encourage each child to learn to read well at school and stimulate him by example and your attitude and ways to enjoy reading. Make mealtime a period when there's lots of conversation in which all the children participate, especially the older ones.

By example and precept, cultivate the habit of regular daily reading at home by all members of the family as soon as each child is able to read. Require a regular daily reading period by the children until homework assignments begin.

Try to induce your children of the upper grade and high school to view with you good programs on TV in which masters of good speech are heard. Call to the child's attention the clarity of speech and good choice of words by great dramatists on the air; also by great leaders of the world, that are heard on such programs as "Youth Wants To Know," "Face The Nation" or "Meet The Press."

My bulletin, "Your Child's Speech," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

TV Repairman Relates Story Of 3 Murders

Ex-Convict Almost Boastful About His Slaying Of Models

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — "I would make them kneel down. With the gun on them, I would tie this five-foot piece of rope around their ankles. Then I would loop it up around their neck. Then I would stand there and keep pulling until they quit struggling."

Calmly, almost boastfully, a mild-mannered, big-eared television repairman thus confessed strangling three models and leaving their bodies in lonely southern California desert areas.

All of the victims were first raped, sheriff's officers said as they jailed Harvey M. Glatman, 30, Los Angeles, on suspicion of murder Thursday.

He said he used the same piece of sash cord and the same pistol in all assaults. The weapons were in his car when highway patrolmen found a fourth intended victim holding the gun on him after a desperate struggle in a car Monday night.

The slender, sandy-haired ex-convict, who served prison terms in New York and Colorado for kidnaping and rape, confessed after two days' questioning and a lie-detector test, said chief investigator Joel Hays of the Orange County district attorneys office.

The victims died 15, 8 and 3 months ago in this order, as Hays quoted Glatman's confession:

Mrs. Judy Ann Dull, 19, West Hollywood, was assaulted in his apartment after a date to shoot pin-up pictures of her Aug. 1, 1957. He strangled her on the desert near Indio, about 95 miles east of here, and buried her in a shallow, sandy grave.

Posing as "George Williams," a Pasadena plumber, Glatman dated Mrs. Shirley Ann Loy Bridgeford, 24, a divorcee, of suburban Sun Valley, through a Los Angeles lonely hearts club last March 8.

With the rope he ended her life south of Escondido after forcing her to disrobe and submit to him in his automobile. He didn't bury her because he walked her "almost a mile into the desert and I didn't think anyone would find her there."

Last July 23 he called on Miss Ruth Rita Mercado, 24, through a modeling advertisement. He spent the night in the apartment, assaulting her repeatedly at gunpoint, then forced her to walk to his car.

"I didn't want to kill her," Glatman told officers. "She was the one I really liked. So I told her we were going out to a deserted spot where we wouldn't be bothered while I took more pictures. We drove out to the Escondido district. I tried and tried to figure out how to keep from killing her. But I couldn't come up with any answer, so I got out the rope and did it the same way I did the others. I piled some brush and debris on her body and left her there."

Officers said his fourth intended victim was Miss Lorraine Vigil, 28, Los Angeles, whom he dated Monday night, ostensibly for picture-taking in, he told her, his "studio." Instead, he sped about 35 miles south on the Santa Ana Freeway and parked. He produced a pistol, tied her hands and tried to assault her. They struggled. The pistol went off and the bullet grazed the inside of Miss Vigil's right leg. But she grabbed the weapon and was holding Glatman at bay when patrolmen happened by.

2 Suburban Weeklies Acquire New Owners

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two suburban weekly newspapers in the Cleveland area—the Berea News and South Euclid Messenger—have new owners today.

The Berea paper, with a circulation of about 6,000, was sold by Carl E. Winter to James C. Toedtman, a former Columbus Dispatch reporter who once headed the journalism department at Ohio Wesleyan University.

The South Euclid paper was merged by the Shaker Sun Co. with its Hillcrest Sun Press under the new name of the Hillcrest Sun Press and Messenger. Publisher Harry Volk of the Sun Press said the press run for the new paper would be 20,000.

First Motorist Cited On New Hancock Road

A Pittsburgh motorist has the dubious distinction of being the first arrested for speeding on the newly-opened stretch of Route 66 south of Waterford Park.

Ralph J. Nuzzo Jr., 31, was fined $35 and costs for speeding 90 miles per hour on the improved highway, which was opened at noon yesterday after 17 months of construction. Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland fined Nuzzo $1 for each mile over the 55-mph. limit. He was arrested by Hancock County sheriff's deputies Thursday evening.

Squire Herron also fined Donald Goysovich, owner of the Fort Pitt Bar in Weirton Heights, $200 and costs for possession of alcoholic liquors on premises where only a beer license had been issued. The tavern operator was arrested by Weirton Detachment officers of the West Virginia State Police Wednesday.

Council Head Cites Tax Benefit

Survey Seen On Lower Fire Rates

Council President B. E. Warner told Kiwanis Club members Thursday that a State Board of Fire Underwriters is to make a survey of East Liverpool within the next 60 days to determine possibilities of moving the city into a higher bracket of fire protection—resulting in decreased insurance rates—in the wake of improvements in the city's fire department from funds of the city income tax.

Warner pointed out that East Liverpool is presently rated in Class 6 and if the income tax is retained Nov. 4, additional improvements could be made in the fire department which would move the city to Class 4 with savings to property owners of several thousands of dollars per year in fire insurance payments.

DECREASED fire insurance rates were one of the points emphasized by the Council president in continuing to campaign for support of the tax. Some 40 attended the noon luncheon in the Travelers Hotel.

Warner added that a survey by the underwriters would include a check on actual strength of the fire department, its equipment, condition of buildings in the city and many other factors involved in changing the classification for lower fire insurance rates.

"We still need more firemen to get out of Class 6," he said, "Two-way radios must be installed in every fire truck and other improvements must be made in the department."

IF THE CITY was moved to Class 5, only commercial establishments would be effected," he said. "However, when the city is rated in Class 4, dwellings would be included and a reduction of 7½ to 10 per cent in fire insurance rates could be realized," he added.

He also pointed out that benefits realized thus far with the eight-tenths of 1 per cent tax included appointment of five additional firemen and purchase of Scott Air-Paks and other fire-fighting equipment.

Warner reiterated some of the other benefits already achieved such as additional manpower in the police department, school crossing guards, a 10 per cent raise for city employes and "a general upgrading in the city's services."

IN CITING future plans of the administration, if the income tax is retained in the balloting Tuesday, Warner told Kiwanians that a citywide planning program with a master plan is a necessity before the federal government will grant funds for urban renewal.

He also cited the lack of unpaved streets, asserting the city has 140 miles of streets, 47 of which are unpaved, and pointed to the inadequate storm and sewage systems which could be improved with income tax funds.

Asked what the city would lose in services if the tax is repealed, Warner said that "a 10 per cent raise to city employes would have to be eliminated, the police department would lose nine men, the fire department five and there would be no funds for road services."

—:—

"COUNCIL could reinstate the income tax if voted down Nov. 4," Warner said, but added that "if the people reject Council would not consider reinstatement because they are not running a dictatorship."

He concluded by urging Kiwanis members to help "sell the story of the income tax and answer any questions that would prove helpful."

He was introduced by Robert Metcalfe, president, who presided. Copies of a form listing many types of sports and activities for use in a recreation survey were distributed. Guests included David Hall and Kenny Guy of the High School Key Club.

The course was conducted to orient the board members on the new program. A series of these meetings is planned for the near future.

In fighting a fire, it's best to use a water supply that is easily available.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Slimness Offers New Happiness

Do you rationalize that life is too short to give up the pleasures of overeating? Have you forgotten the delight of being shapely weight and willowy?

Ida Jean Kain

Then you don't know what you've been missing!

The sheer joy of life expressed in this letter from a triumphant reducer should act as a shot of adrenalin and change your whole outlook on dieting. A slim girl who had been imprisoned in excess pounds and a size 20-½ is now set free! All that being free of the burden of fat can mean is poignantly expressed in this never-to-be-forgotten letter. Signing herself "A Reader Who Knows", an Ohioan writes:

"Being slim again is such a wonderful experience that I am most eager to share my joy with overweights. April 1st, 1958, I weighed 171 pounds. Today I weigh 138, an average loss of 5 pounds per month.

"I NOW WEAR a size 15 dress instead of 20½, bulging at the seams. Buying new clothes is a wonderful adventure, and wearing them is even more fun.

"It's hard to remember the cream pie you turned down three months ago as you slip on a pair of trim high heeled pumps—pumps that were to exhausting to wear when you weighed 171 pounds. It's easy to forget the spaghetti dinners you declined when you are hearing compliments on how much younger you look.

"It's wonderful, too, to look at your face and see your eyes take on a new importance and find that bone structure is a foundation for make-up instead of a thick layer of fat. It's fun to fluff your hair to emphasize features rather than tighten the pins to minimize your face.

"It's wonderful, too, to get used to looking at a slender you who stands tall, rather than a fatty who slumped to try to minimize her size. It's exciting to be able to run lightly upstairs without huffing and puffing and to accomplish with ease bending tasks that you have avoided for years.

"But the greatest and most exciting part of it all is the sense of well-being that you enjoy with the weight removed. Joints are no longer swollen and puffy, turning your head is no longer an ordeal. You feel wide awake and your desire for sleep is normal. There is pleasure in every motion after the burden of weight is lifted.

"Your personal responsibility toward a useless burden of weight is ended and you have increased your life expectancy by several years.

"STOP BEING a sympathy gatherer for all your ailments and discover that normal weight is one of the keys to unlock a fountain of good health."

Overweights, pick up 33 pounds, or the equivalent of your excess, and see how it feels. Let this straight-from-the-heart letter inspire you to get free of that burden. Clip and save this exultant letter to re-read.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed letter for "Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

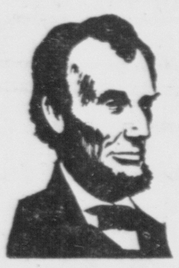
Abe Lincoln Said:



YOU CAN'T FOOL ALL THE PEOPLE ALL THE TIME

BUT THE SUPPORTERS OF ISSUE 2 THINK THEY CAN FOOL YOU

They think Lincoln was wrong. They think they can keep right on fooling you. They have fought every gain for working people, every benefit, every improvement . . . but NOW they pose as a "friend" of the working man. They are going to "free" him. But they think you don't know "right-to-work" gives no one any new "right", any new "freedom", or any work.

ISSUE 2 WOULD REALLY CAUSE LOW WAGES AND BUSINESS LOSSES

Attacks on union security are attacks on union wages. That is what they REALLY intend . . . lower wages, lower benefits, weaker contracts. Timken Roller Bearing and the National Association of Manufacturers and the Chamber of Commerce and such old, established opponents of improvements for working people intend "right-to-work" to slice into workers' earnings. It would. And it would hurt every business man, every professional man, in Ohio. "Right-to-work" states are low wage states. Don't let them make Ohio an economic backwash.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

A Welcome Back To Omnibus

"Omnibus" opened its seventh season with a frightening, absorbing, frequently literate and only occasionally irritating study of the pros (of which there are very few) and cons (of which they are very many) of capital punishment.

John Crosby

Right at the outset, Joseph N. Welch, the distinguished Boston mouthpiece, warned us that perhaps we'd best get rid of the children because this was going to be pretty stern "stuff."

And it sure was. Mr. Welch personally conducted this seminar on the legal extinction of our fellow man, his every polysyllable reeking of social disapproval, while the words themselves remained scrupulously fair, touched with irony, and only politely skeptical.

The exploration started back in ancient England with a small bit of drama in which a judge sentences a female to "hang by the neck until dead" because she has been found guilty of stealing tuppence ha'penny's worth of salt. It's only after sentence is pronounced that you find out the condemned girl is just 7 years old.

STARTING WITH this delicate bit of savagery, Mr. Welch, frequently abetted by actors, engaged in small bits of dramaturgy, wove a whole tapestry of inhumanity, spanning the years in which hangings were considered public outings, right up to the present, when they are conducted in such secrecy that it begins to look as if we'd like to pretend they don't happen.

There were some fairly grisly shots of Nazi mass exterminations used as a clincher to an argument against capital punishment since we frequently forget that these killings were all quite legal.

A character named Joseph Grimes—shades of Dickens—was introduced as a typical contemporary murderer—typical in that he killed someone close to him (his wife) in a drunken rage between the hours of 8 p.m. and 2 a.m.

Then, his slow painful procession to the electric chair was traced right up to the final strapping on of the death mask (which was strapped right on to the camera lens to give those of us at home an idea of how it felt).

ALONG THE WAY, Welch touched on several points of propriety—taking note of the fact that the delays are barbarous, that physical agony is by no means entirely missing, that some biologists now consider murder a matter of chemical imbalances in the murderer, and that capital punishment doesn't seem to provide any real deterrent to murder.

It was grim stuff, all right, and some of the little dramatic bits were pretty gritty—badly written, badly directed and badly acted. But if you stuck with it right through Mr. Grimes' last day and last meal and last walk, all related with methodical detail, it had stunning impact.

Mr. Welch's prose was dry, precise and implacable, and left no doubts as to where he stands on this matter which is, resolutely opposed.

Anyhow it's nice to welcome back "Omnibus," which promises us an exciting seventh season, including visits by S. J. Perelman (whose latest book, "The Most of S. J. Perelman," I can't recommend as bedside reading since it will just keep you awake all night screaming with laughter, annoying the neighbors and leaving you as exhausted as it has me), Peter Ustinov, Gene Kelly and Esther Williams.

"Omnibus" has been cut down to an hour this year, which I think on the whole is a good idea. It will alternate every other week with a new NBC show called "Kaleidoscope," which may or may not be a good idea.

-:-

"TWENTIETH CENTURY" also returned Sunday with an exploration of Communist propaganda called "The Red Sell."

It had some wonderful film, showing how the Reds portray Americans in their movies and some interesting shots of the big youth congress in Moscow last year.

But on the whole I found it a little tiresome — simply because I'm sick of that particular subject, I guess. But I'm glad the show and Walter Cronkite, its narrator, are with us for another season.

Incidentally, the third of the "Small World" shows was the best yet. Lauren Bacall succeeded in being sexy, witty, wise, combative and immensely good natured in a clash of intellects with Malcolm Muggeridge (who thinks women should be shooed back to the kitchen) and Eric Johnston, and Edward R. Murrow who seemed to be having a perfectly wonderful time on his own show.

Leaf Removal Delays Slagging At Midland

The slagging of streets in the residential area of Plan K in north Midland was delayed this week due to street crews being switched to cleaning up fall leaves, R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, said today.

He said he plans to get started next week making the streets more passable before winter. Next spring, Maryland, Park Pl., N. and Delaware Sts. will be reconstructed, he said.

Heads Tax Assn.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The new president of the National Tax Assn. is Stanley J. Bowers, 46, of Ashville, Ohio. He was elevated from vice president at the association's annual convention here Thursday. Bowers, Ohio tax commissioner, has been with the tax division since 1933 and has been tax commissioner for the past four years.

DiSalle Again Raps O'Neill

Says He's Failed To Set Ohio For Seaway

CLEVELAND (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle charges that his Republican opponent, Gov. C. William O'Neill, has failed to prepare Ohio for the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The Democratic candidate for governor spoke to Lake County Democrats in nearby Willoughby Thursday night. He said:

"Ohio's port cities must make expansive preparations to accommodate ocean-going vessels if they are to benefit appreciable from the seaway. They must be prepared for the shifts in population and industrial location which the seaway will produce."

DiSalle said O'Neill has failed to create an area port and industrial development council, although the Democrat contended the governor had agreed to do so last January.

In Columbus Wednesday, DiSalle asserted, "The governor explained to Toledo port officials that his failure to create a Great Lakes area port and industrial development council . . . was due to the fact that any action he might have taken would be construed to have political motivations." DiSalle continued:

"This, in spite of the fact that highways, mental health brochures, welfare brochures and the personnel of many state departments have been brazenly exploited for political promotion throughout the campaign."

Club Distributes Recreation Form

Questionnaires in the city recreation survey were distributed when the Executive Board of the East Liverpool Business Professional Women's Club met Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel. Members were requested to distribute them among residents who will not be reached through the schools. Pupils are also taking the forms home.

Miss Frances Jones, vice chairman of the career advancement committee, reported on the steering meeting held recently at the Carnegie Library for the Science Fair. Faculty members from East Liverpool High School, Westgate and Chester, Wells, and Beaver Local and South Side High schools were present. No definite date was set, she said.

The board prepared a resolution of respect for the late Agnes Cleland in recognition of her years of active service as a member.

The public affairs committee reported progress in contacting members and urging them to vote in Tuesday's election. Members will also be advised the board endorsed the $125,000 bond issue for a Children's Receiving Home for the County.

Court Hears Appeal On Bergman-Rossellini

ROME (AP) — A Rome appellate court today heard arguments —behind closed doors — in the state's appeal against annulment of the marriage of actress Ingrid Bergman and Roberto Rossellini. After a two-hour session the court adjourned the case to Dec. 5.

The annulment was granted last July 10 and the state prosecutor appealed. Until the court rules, the 1950 Mexican proxy marriage will remain on record.

Miss Bergman has announced intention of marrying Swedish publisher Lars Schmidt when and if the annulment becomes final.

62 Given TB Test

LISBON — The Mantoux tuberculosis test was given Wednesday to 30 pupils at West Local School, along with 32 students at United Local who were absent when the test was given previously, according to Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner. Studies yesterday showed one positive reaction in the 26 tests given recently at Salineville High School, he said. Reports are due today and Friday on the United Local and West Local tests.

Bread And Butter Auto Stolen By 'Meanest Thief'

CLEVELAND (AP)—James Hendershot called the car his "bread and butter," and the man who took it will qualify as one of the meanest thiefs of the year.

The 1950 car, loaded with expensive surveyor's instruments, was stolen Thursday night. When it was recovered early this morning it was a pile of junk, minus the hood, front fenders, radiator, battery and engine.

A surveyor's transit, valued by Hendershot at $900, was missing. A valuable camera was smashed, one piece of equipment appeared to have been gone over with an acetylene torch and four feet had been clipped from a metal tape measure.

Hendershot, 23, who works for the National Survey Co., said the loss was insured.

4-Point Program To Prevent Crime Set By Koblentz

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A four-point program to prevent crime was outlined Thursday night by Maury C. Koblentz, correction division chief of the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

Speaking to the 200 delegates attending the 12th regional forum of the National Jail Assn., Koblentz presented the following program:

Organize all local civic agencies into a coordinated crime prevention effort.

Set up state-wide crime prevention units.

Expand mental health facilities.

Build better jails.

Such a program, he said, would help stem a crime wave which costs the United Staes an estimated 20 billion dollars a year.

Since the end of World War II, he observed, the population of Ohio's prisons has almost doubled, reaching a record high of 11,600 persons last summer.

Spirit's High As LSU Waits Mississippi

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Just about everything except football was forgotten today as first-ranked Louisiana State made last-minute preparations for its Saturday night spectacular with sixth-ranked Mississippi.

Baton Rouge residents, always among the most rabid fans, said they had never seen anything like the spirit on the LSU campus.

Even Coach Paul Dietzel has found it impossible to control the students. They interrupted practice earlier in the week with an impromptu pep rally on the field.

Gov. Earl Long proclaimed Saturday "Louisiana State University First in the Nation Day" in honor of Dietzel's unbeaten team. But the governor refused to predict which one of the perfect record teams will win. "I just hope LSU wins," he said.

The game, which will draw an anticipated overflow crowd of 65,000-plus, is a natural from all standpoints. Scalpers reportedly are getting $15 for a $4 ticket.

The winner will take undisputed possession of top spot in the Southeastern Conference race. LSU, which has won its first six games for the first time since 1908, is 5-0 in conference play. Ole Miss has a 2-0 record. Regardless of the outcome, both teams will be prime bowl prospects.

LSU, propelled by its All America halfback candidate Billy Cannon, is a six-point favorite.

The dollar was fixed as the unit of currency in the United States by Act of Congress April 6, 1792.

Huff Gets Assignment To Try To Stop Brown

NEW YORK (AP) — Think you've got things tough? Look at Sam Huff. All he has to do is stop Jimmy Brown.

Coach Jim Lee Howell of the New York Giants put the finger on his middle linebacker today to put the blocks to Brown — who happens to be on the way to a National Football League rushing record—when they play the Cleveland Browns Sunday at Cleveland.

The Giants, second in the Eastern Conference with a 3-2 record, have to get this one to keep the first place Browns (5-0) within reach. And to do that, they have to stop Brown.

Young Jimmy, outstanding as a rookie last year, is a terror as a sophomore. He's powered to 815 yards in the five games, averaging 6.9 a crack — smashing for virtually six of every 10 yards the Browns have made on the ground. He's scored 14 touchdowns and hasn't been held to less than 125 yards in one game.

And with rookie Bob Mitchell sweeping the ends for Cleveland to keep the other two linebackers alert, Huff was Howell's pick "to dog Brown all the way."

Huff, at 23 in his third NFL season since leaving West Virginia, took it as part of the game.

"Brown's a terrific ballplayer," he said in a soft drawl, "but he's just like anybody else. If you hit him hard enough, he'll go down. And we've got a pretty good defensive team, you know."

That, the Giants have. They've yielded only 483 yards rushing in their five games limiting the opposition to 2.8 yards a try.

Right And Normal

Recession And Recovery Good 'Political Fodder'

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic candidates undoubtedly gained many potential votes from the business recession. Now the Republicans are making campaign ammunition out of the recovery.

This is right and normal, politically speaking. If people blame the "ins" when things go wrong, the "ins" are entitled to claim credit when affairs right themselves.

The fact is however that politicians, policies and panaceas seem to have had little to do with either causing or curing the business slump. As the economic data accumulate, the 1957-58 recession looks more and more like a very ordinary swing and backswing of the economic pendulum.

Far from being an unprecedented or rushing rebound, as some have described it, the recovery is a little behind schedule by comparison with the upturns from the earlier postwar slumps.

It has left a troublesome residue of unemployed, 4,100,000 of them, about 1½ million more than a year ago. Unemployment never improves as rapidly as sales, output and total incomes.

But there is grist for the GOP speechmakers even here. It appears that this month will see industry absorb another 500,000 or so of the idle, roughly matching last month's good gain.

The official job report won't be ready before next Thursday or Friday, but there's every reason to expect that the administration will find a way to break the glad news somehow before election day — probably in somebody's campaign speech this weekend.

That's what happened just before election day in 1954, in an almost identical recovery situation. Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Secretary of Labor Mitchell gave the news to reporters, after the Census Bureau's computers worked overtime to speed the tally.

Some of Weeks' aides protested when a newspaper accused him of leaking the news prematurely "for political purposes." Weeks just grinned when someone showed him the criticism. "Well, we did, didn't we?" he chuckled.

Actually there are recent indications that rehiring will be about as rapid as it was after the 1953-54 and 1948-49 recessions, and possibly faster. (But then, as Democrats point out, employment went down farther and faster too.)

Factory hours of work already are almost back to the standard 40, which means that future gains in output will have to be accomplished by hiring men instead of just restoring part-time workers to full schedules.

Other barometers of recovery aren't quite up to pattern. Although the national production rate since spring has regained three fourths of the ground lost in the previous six months, in the two previous recessions it had climbed back all the way by this time.

The total incomes of Americans didn't sag badly, thanks largely to unemployment compensation and other built-in buffers. It has recovered a little faster than in 1949, not as rapidly as in 1954.

The recovery of retail sales is behind that in both the earlier recessions, after discounting for price advances. Last month sales stood at 96 per cent of the pre-recession peak. At the corresponding point in the 1954 recovery they were 106 per cent and in the 1949 upturn almost 110 per cent.

New orders at factories, while increasing as rapidly as they did in 1949, are behind 1954. Housing starts are a strong upward force but are less buoyant than in the other postwar recoveries.

The pattern strongly suggests that what President Eisenhower calls the "strong, sensible, constructive" policies of the administration didn't have much to do with the recovery; and by the same token, that things would not have been much farther advanced if some of the costlier but slow-acting "emergency" spending proposals of some Democrats in Congress had been adopted.

Electricity Rate Up

CLEVELAND (AP) — Starting Feb. 1, Cleveland Electric Illumination Co. consumers will pay about a half cent a day more for electricity. And, Feb. 1, 1960, will bring another one-cent a day increase in bills. That's the result of a rate compromise reached Thursday by company negotiators with representatives from Cleveland and its suburbs. The increase is only half what the company originally sought but will bring in additional revenue of about $5,850,000 in two years.

Sees Sampling Of Nuclear Clouds

Writer Is Flown Through Atomic Cloud At Test Site

By STEVE LOWELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—Lt. Bill Krull flew me through an atomic cloud.

Bill, who is 27 and from George, Iowa, is a member of the 4950th Test Group from Kirkland Field, Albuquerque. His job is flying observers to check radioactivity and pick up samples of particles in the usually awesome clouds.

Bill's plane is a twin-engine B57 jet bomber. On the tips of the wings are containers which look like wing tanks. They hold filter paper screens through which the air flows and which catch particles as the craft flies through atomic clouds.

In the back cockpit are dials to register the peak radioactivity encountered in a cloud, the average radioactivity of each pass, and the total radioactivity piled up through one whole flight.

Bill took me along Thursday as the observer so I could see how his unit has been sampling nuclear clouds in atomic tests for six years.

We went out to take a look at a pint-sized cloud. It was about 1,000 feet through and came from the explosion of what is called a safety experiment. That is a proposed nuclear bomb design set up for testing to see what strains it can stand in case it is in an accident like a fire, crash, or fall. Conventional explosives are used to try to set off the miniature nuclear charges.

We wore lead vests and flew on 100 per cent oxygen throughout the half-hour mission. We flew over to Yucca Flat where the explosion took place and let down to about 2,000 feet.

The amount of radioactivity we recorded was minute.

When we reached ground again that radioactivity showed on a counter passed over us from head to foot, but there was not enough contamination to make it necessary to take a shower.

The samples we took were sent as routine to the Livermore Radiation Laboratory in California for analysis to help learn a little more about atomic power.

Newell Group Holds Open House For 150

Some 150 heard Judge Louis Tobin of Columbiana County Juvenile Court speak at an open house held Wednesday evening by the Jefferson Parent-Teacher Association at the Newell school.

Judge Tobin discussed juvenile delinquency and cited cases close to Newell. He declared "juvenile delinquency is everyone's business."

The group will observe National Educational Week, Nov. 10-14, and all parents are invited to visit the school.

Miss Ethel Moore's fifth grade won the attendance banner. Fourth grade mothers who served refreshments were Mrs. Audrey Lugano, Mrs. Helen Rayburn, Mrs. Coleman Ridings, Mrs. Jean Thornberry and Mrs. Mary Rayburn.

The meeting was opened by Joseph Jester, president. Mrs. Edwin Carson gave the devotions. The school patrol boys guarded the building and cars from Halloween pranksters.

The next meeting Nov. 19 will feature a program by Cub Pack 10, sponsored by the PTA. James Seevers is cubmaster. George Vukas will be program chairman.

The PTA furnished refreshments for the Halloween party held this afternoon at the school. Parents were invited and each room had its own program. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carnahan furnished apples for the entire school.

Bus Firm, Union Talks Continue In Pact Dispute

CLEVELAND (AP) — Representatives of Eastern Greyhound Lines and the Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America continued negotiations here today in an effort to reach agreement on a new contract.

A spokesman for Greyhound said there had been some progress and that prospects looked good for an agreement before the old contract expires at midnight tonight.

Directly involved are 3,400 drivers, terminal and maintenance employes in 20 northeast states from the Mississippi River to the East Coast. Specific demands by the union have not been disclosed.

Negotiators met in Pittsburgh for a week before moving here last Friday.

County Towns To Pay More For Natural Gas

The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. announced at Columbus Thursday it is increasing natural gas rates in 68 Ohio communities, including several in Columbiana County and nearby areas, to offset higher costs of natural gas from its suppliers.

A fuel cost clause in local contracts provides for the increases, the company said. Rates will be increased a half-cent per 1,000 cubic feet.

District communities affected include Hanoverton, Bergholz, Columbiana, Lisbon, New Waterford, Leetonia, Salem, Salineville, Carrollton, Damascus, Dungannon, East Rochester, Guilford, Kensington, Mechanicstown, New Garden, Summitville, Washingtonville, Beloit and Winona.

The half-cent increase also will affect 228 large-volume industrial customers.

2 Counties Will Have Labor Unit Witnesses At Vote Count

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — At least two counties will have labor organization witnesses when the ballots are counted after next Tuesday's election.

The deadline on requests for organizational witnesses came Thursday with the Toledo Labor Conference and the United Organized Labor of Franklin County, receiving permission to install witnesses.

The Toledo group received permission for more than 300 witnesses by the Lucas County Board of Elections. The county has 633 polling places.

In Franklin County the election board gave permission to UOL to place one witness at each of the county's 1,142 polling places.

The law permits organizations recognized by election boards in all 88 counties to place witnesses at polling places. The labor witnesses will watch the vote count on Issue 2, a proposed constitutional amendment to regulate labor contracts.

The deadline for witnesses does not apply to challengers or witnesses requested by candidates. A challenger may be stationed in polling places during the actual voting and can challenge the eligibility of any voter. Election judges would then decide whether a challenged voter could mark a ballot.

The law sets a limit of six challengers and six witnesses at any one polling place.

NEWPORT, R. I., (AP)—John B. Dowdell, 21, of New York City, entered Wan Foo's Chinese restaurant and was hit with a bill for $2,500 before he had even a morsel of food.

Dowdell came in through a 12-foot plate glass window with his car.

The $2,500 was for damages.

Democrats Rap GOP Prize Plan To Vote Workers

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A Republican plan to offer cash prizes to precinct committeemen who do the best jobs of getting out the vote in next Tuesday's election in Butler County has drawn a Democratic protest.

A letter from Republican County Chairman Martin A. Coyle notified precinct committeemen that $50 bills would go to the six committeemen "who do the best job."

Thursday, Harry B. Grevey, secretary of the Democratic county executive committee, sent a letter to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, contending the contest is contrary to law.

"In our opinion," Grey wrote, "any political organization that has a contest for votes and offers prizes such as 'six $50 bills' is establishing a price for a vote, which is contrary to laws of the state of Ohio and which practice should be stopped immediately."

Grey asked Brown to declare "such contests are illegal."

It is evident that a great deal of thought is given to this important matter with the result that the law is being complied with.

"We also commend the County Commissioners for the method in which the purchase orders are handled.

1. SURPLUS FOOD. A careful and thorough investigation shows that the cost of this program for a peak of 13% unemployment in Columbiana County is prohibitive. Belmont County, which had 22% unemployment in March of 1958 and a Surplus Food Program, discontinued it. Tuscarawas County, which had 13½% unemployment in March 1958, discontinued getting surplus foods. Direct welfare assistance is amply taking care of the County's needy.

2. CAR PURCHASES. From 1952-58 Columbiana County purchased 34 cars and trucks from 27 different dealers. At least three bids, and as many as five bids, were taken on every car purchased.

3. GASOLINE PURCHASES. County gasoline is purchased from 12 wholesale accounts, each dealer furnishing about one transport load of 6,000 gallons per year. In addition, all oil and tires are purchased on bids.

4. RE-APPRAISAL. State law makes a reappraisal of County real estate mandatory each six years. The County Auditor must adhere to this law. The estimated cost is less than $3.00 per parcel for 65,000 parcels. An experienced company is hired, with local residents doing the actual field work. Only two of eighty-eight county auditors handle their own re-appraisal—in two of the smallest Counties of the State.

5. COUNTY FINANCIAL STATEMENTS. Columbiana County is and has been for years operated within its budget and is in the black. The cost of publishing a financial statement would be over $2,000.00. The County financial statement and the Auditor's books are open daily to anyone wishing to inspect them.

6. HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENTS. Columbiana County has had a full share of road improvements under Governor O'Neill.

The four million dollar improvement of Route 7 at Wellsville will be open to traffic November 1st.

The first segment of 2½ miles of the Lake Erie to Ohio River highway, will be a four lane highway, commencing at the northerly city limits of East Liverpool and will be under construction next year. Hearings on the route are to be commenced November 25th.

In 1957 and 1958 under the Republican administration of Governor O'Neill 100 miles of resurfacing has been completed on highways within Columbiana County.

The greatest amount ever spent in Columbiana County in a biennium period under former Governor Lausche was $5,339,366. Under the administration of Governor O'Neill, roads completed and roads under construction amount to $13,020,194.00.

7. COMMON PLEAS COURT. The Common Pleas Court is functioning with the utmost efficiency under Judge Joel H. Sharp and Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, to the extent that the pre-trial docket is now current with approximately 200 cases pending. It is true that court actions are on the increase, with approximately 1,000 cases filed each year. From the September Term Active Trial List, 79 cases have been disposed of in 21 actual trial days, including 10 jury cases, which speak well for a "working court".

8. CLERK OF COURTS. The Clerk of Courts office is operated with the utmost efficiency. The present Clerk of Courts was Chief Deputy for 18 years in the office of John W. Coleman. Who in Columbiana County could be more fitted to operate this office?

9. The Court House is open for the transaction of business 5½ days each week of the year.

DON'T be overwhelmed or misled by lavish campaign promises. Let the good record of those in office be your guide in selecting your County Officials. Promises are not reliable. THE RECORD IS.

Pius XII Was Of Noble Birth

New Pope Was Child Of Farmer

(In the first of three vivid word pictures of Pope John XXIII, the AP's veteran chief Vatican correspondent, Frank Brutto, tells some of the similarities and differences between the new pontiff and his predecessor Pope Pius XII, and the steps by which John XXIII, reached the pontifical throne.)

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Thousands in the Vatican square roared approval when Pope John XXIII stepped to the balcony of St. Peter's Basilica to give his first blessing to the city of Rome and the world.

In the narrow streets of Sotto il Monte — which means Under the Mountain — children danced and shouted:

"Long life to Roncalli. Long live the Pope."

For it was in this little Italian Alpine town of 1,800 people that the 262nd pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church was born Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli nearly 77 years ago. He was the child of a poor farmer — about as different as could be from the noble Roman family that gave birth to his predecessor, Eugenio Pacelli, the late Pope Puis XII.

The Pacellis were patricians, the Roncallis humble countryfolk. Their now most famous son has sometimes been called a countryman. It is a quality that has endeared him to many.

The quasi-jovality common to his native Bergamo province more than anything else immediately marks the difference between Pope John and his predecessor, the aristocratic Roman who for 19 years guided the church through an extremely difficult war and postwar period.

Few men looked less alike: Pius, slender, frail, ascetic; John, a 210-pounder with a robustness belying his years, a heritage of his peasant background.

But there are many similarities: dedication to the church from early life, intimate experience with Vatican administration years in the church's diplomatic service, association with foreign government heads as a papal ambassador, a deep awareness of communism's threat to Catholicism, staunch defenders of morality, devotion to study, research and scholarship.

The new Pope was one of twelve children, his father a sharecropper.

In 1933, when he became patriarch of Venice, he told his parishioners: "I was born of poor parents. Providence took me from my native hamlet and led me to travel the roads of the world, from east to west, putting me in contact with the most serious social and political problems.

"Now . . . my long experience has led me to Venice. . . . Don't look at your patriarch as a politician and diplomat, but look at him as the servant of God."

Providence may have taken a hand in the career of the prelate, but his own good talents had long been observed.

Young Angelo was only 11 when he entered the diocesan seminary at Bergamo. Twelve years later, on Aug. 10, 1904, he was ordained a priest in Rome.

The qualifications of the young priest had already been noted by his bishop, Msgr. Radini-Tedeschini. Young Roncalli became the prelate's personal secretary in 1905. He held the post until the bishop died in 1914, gaining an early knowledge of the administrative structure of the church.

In World War I, Roncalli entered service as a sergeant. When it ended, he was an army chaplain.

In 1921 Pope Benedict XV summoned him to Rome for the important assignment of reorganizing the Congregation for Propagation of the Faith, which directs the church's missions.

A year later, when Pius XI had succeeded Benedict, the new pontiff took an immediate interest in Roncalli's work. During the next four years he sent him on many missions to foreign centers. He was consecrated a bishop in 1925 and entered the Vatican's diplomatic service.

His first assignment was an apostolic visitor to Bulgaria. He remained there until 1934 and was then transferred to Turkey as vicar.

Msgr. Roncalli remained in the Balkans until the early years of World War II, then was named apoltolic nuncio to liberated Paris. On New Year's Day, 1945, he presented his credentials to Gen. Charles de Gaulle, then head of the French provisional government.

Msgr. Roncalli remained in France eight years, until Pius XII made him a cardinal and ordered him to Venice. That ended a diplomatic career that had taken him to every country in Europe and to many in the Middle East from Egypt to Turkey. During that period he had mastered Turkish, Greek, Bulgarian and French and become acquainted with Russian.

U.S. Again Invited 'To Join British'

OTTAWA (AP) — The United States has a new invitation to join the British Commonwealth—from the husband of Queen Elizabeth II.

Speaking jokingly at the banquet of the English-Speaking Union conference, Prince Philip said an American membership application would receive "sympathetic consideration."

In more serious vein he proposed a toast to partnership between the Commonwealth and the United States but said this was "very much more complicated" than it might appear.

Toledo Man Killed As Train Strikes Car

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Louis Henry House, 70, of Toledo was killed early today when the car in which he was riding was struck by a Michigan Central freight train at an Ohio 199 crossing just west of nearby Walbridge.

Injured was the driver of the car, Harold Smith, 64, also of Toledo, the state highway patrol reported. Smith was taken to St. Charles Hospital here.

Mine Mishap Fatal

CADIZ, Ohio (AP)—James Keith Wright, 25, was killed Thursday by a coal loader which accidentally pulled him into the machine at the 500-foot level at the Nelms Mine, four miles east of here.

'They've Had It'

Two Rescued Miners Vow They'll Not Return To Pit

SPRINGHILL, N. S. (AP) — Some of the 12 men rescued from a week's entombment in a wrecked coal mine have had it. Two vowed today they never will go back to the mines.

Levi Milley, 47, put it this way from a hospital bed where the lucky 12 have been recuperating since their rescue Thursday:

"Well, you can say this: Levi Milley, former coal miner of Springhill and chicken-raiser on the side, is looking for a full-time job on a chicken farm some place.

"Doesn't matter where. I'll go anywhere. They'll never get me back in that mine."

"I'm never going back into that mine," said Harold Brine. "If I can't make a living somewhere else I'll starve. Being trapped like that gives you an awful feeling."

A similar view was expressed by some of the others. Or their wives said it for them.

Mine rescue crews, meanwhile, probed deeper into the Cumberland No. 2 colliery in search for 49 miners still missing in the disaster.

Assistant rescue director Frank Doxey said he held only slim hope that any more of the missing men would be found alive.

Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, planned to break his trip back to London to visit the 12 survivors tonight. They were rescued after 6½ days of hunger, thirst and despair in a debris-sealed pocket.

Doctors said all are in good shape and can return home after a short rest except for Joseph McDonald, 38, who has a broken leg.

Of the 174 miners caught by the gigantic upheaval that wrecked the mine Oct. 23, the record today showed 93 rescued, 32 dead and 49 missing. The 32nd body was brought up early today.

Searchers continued digging.

With several hundred feet of rock and debris still to be pierced at the 13,000 and 13,400-foot levels, it may be a week or more before the job is accomplished.

2 U.S. Senate Seats At Stake

Both Sides Are Confident In West Virginia Election

CHARLESTON (AP) — Republicans say their campaign has gathered a full head of steam in these closing weeks of the campaign.

Democrats claim they have never been seriously worried about the outcome on Nov. 4 — and are not worried now.

That's about the way party hopes and aspirations stood as the last full week of campaigning drew to a close. The biggest single issue with which both sides had to contend was the apparent disinterest of voters, one way or the other.

Although it is an off-year election, when no presidential office is involved, there were unique elements about this one that had been expected to bestir the citizens.

West Virginia has two U. S. Senate seats at stake, unique among all the states of the union in that respect. The other states elect only one.

Two Supreme Court judges and the Secretary of State are up for election, in addition to the usual run of 100 members of the House of Delegates and 17 (one a vacancy) state senators.

There are four constitutional amendments on the state ballot, and groups particularly interested in these issues have been beating the brush to get voters out on election day as assiduously as some of the candidates.

Not since 1942 have there been two Senate seats on the ballot in West Virginia. In that year, both Republicans were elected. One of them was Sen. Chapman Revercomb, who is trying again this time for his second full six-year term in the Senate.

The other Republican victor in 1942 was the late H. I. Shott, Bluefield publisher and former congressman who was elected to fill out the few remaining weeks of an original Senate term of M. M. Neely, who had become governor in 1940.

Revercomb was renominated in 1948 but lost to Neely. He was nominated again in 1952, but lost to Sen. Harley M. Kilgore.

After Kilgore's death, Revercomb went after the remaining two-year portion of his term and defeated retiring Gov. William C. Marland in 1956, when the Republicans scored their biggest election triumph in a quarter of a century.

Now an older (63), wiser and smoother campaigner, Revercomb is on the ballot again for a full six-year term.

His opponent is Congressman Bob Byrd, whose great appeal lies up the cricks and hollers where he has fiddled and sung his way into the hearts of idolizing constituents of the 6th Congressional District. Had he so chosen, they say Byrd could have stayed in Congress the rest of his life.

At 40, after three terms in the House, Byrd is venturing into the uncertain stream of statewide politics for the first time.

The death of the Old Pro of West Virginia officeholders, Sen. M. M. Neely, set the stage last January for the other senatorial contest.

Republican Gov. Cecil H. Underwood named to Neely's seat the man who had done most to get the GOP ticket elected in 1956—State Chairman John D. Hoblitzell Jr., small town banker and businessman who leaps at all problems with the nervous energy of a tally clerk on election night.

He resigned the chairmanship and entered upon his senatorial duties with characteristic verve. His campaigning has been in the same tempo, with perhaps one unique embellishment.

Hoblitzell is 45 and somehow never considered Old Guard. Yet he stands up in meeting and proclaims himself a conservative "in the tradition of the late Robert Taft."

True enough, West Virginia Republicans are molded in the Taft tradition; they stood by him in 1952 to the bitter end.

But also true, West Virginia embraced the New Deal and Fair Deal with a devotion that kept the state Democratic for 24 years.

Hoblitzell made this somewhat of a moderate issue by needling his Democratic opponent, Jennings Randolph of Elkins, a congressman of the old New Deal days. Randolph, an airline executive this past decade, has said the New Deal and Fair Deal "was the best deal for the American people."

Randolph, who is 56 and another polished campaigner, was the first to file for the Democratic nomination after Neely's death last winter. He had to weather the opposition of three other aspirants in the primary, including the same former Gov. Marland whom Revercomb beat in 1956.

West Virginians will vote from 6:30 a. m. to 7:30 p. m. at 2,802 polling places on election day.

About 63 per cent of the state's million-odd qualified voters are registered Democratic.

Farmers Have Less Chance Of Heart Ailment, U.S. Says

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Farmers appear to have much less risk of developing severe forms of coronary heart disease than nonfarmers as a group, a government report says.

A team of U.S. Public Health Service researchers said this was one of the preliminary findings of a survey on this disease conducted in six counties of northeastern North Dakota.

The team, headed by Dr. William Zukel of the National Heart Institute, told the 86th annual meeting of the American Public Health Assn. this story:

Among 20,000 males 35 and over in the area's population, including about 10,520 farmers and 9,310 men in other occupations, there were 228 reported cases of coronary heart disease during the year of the study.

Of the 228 cases, 101 occurred among farmers and 127 in males of other occupations.

The reported incidence of milder manifestations of the disease—such as angina pectoris—was not much different for farmers when compared with nonfarmers.

However, the occurrence of the more severe manifestations — such as myocardial infarction "heart attack" and deaths—was twice as high among the other occupational groups than it was among the farmers.

The reason?

The doctors offered no views. They merely said, "The reason for this difference deserves more intensive study."

Kickoff—8 P. M.
Place—Reilly Stadium, Salem.

Though East Liverpool's Potters face highly-ranked Salem tonight with their manpower at its lowest level of the season, they still will be doing their best to spring an upset — with the possible help of the Halloween hobgoblins.

However, with regular fullback Bill O'Neil out for probably the rest of the season and four other regulars and a second-stringer on the ailing list, Potter Coach Lou Venditti will have to depend on more than "black magic" to do the trick.

It will take a fired-up team to turn back the powerful Quakers.

AN ESTIMATED 5,000 fans are expected to be on hand for the kickoff at 8 at Salem's Reilly Stadium.

While the Potters again will be handicapped seriously due to a wave of injuries, Salem escaped from last week's upset victory over Youngstown East in top condition and Coach Earl Bruce can call on nearly every squad member for action.

On East Liverpool's injury list, which grows longer each week, are end Pat Cooper, tackle Craig Burbick, guard Charlie Davidson and center Gary Montgomery, besides O'Neil. Defensive halfback Dave Zelch is also troubled with a shoulder injury, but probably will go most of the way tonight.

Tackle Mike Kapp was lost earlier in the season.

—:—

TO COMPENSATE for the loss of Davidson on the line, Venditti has switched Nick Musuraca back to his favorite guard spot and handed the running halfback assignment to either Zelch or sophomore Joe Thompson.

Junior Henry Roach will fill in for O'Neil and sophomore end Tim Archer is ticketed for early action at end in place of Cooper, who was battered in last week's game with Steubenville Central.

Burbick's tackle position will go to Skip Hall, 170-pound sophomore. Junior Ron Prince will go at the other end and senior Carl Ludwig at right tackle. Joe Leigh again will be at center and Jim Bise, 160-pound junior, will team with Musuraca at the other guard.

—:—

THE REMAINDER of the backfield will include Bob Mackall at quarterback, Dave Goodballet at right halfback and either Zelch or Thompson at left halfback.

Venditti said this week's drills centered on improving blocking and tackling and adding polish to the offensive attack. Defense received the most attention as a result of the 18-0 loss to Steubenville Central last week.

Venditti said he is counting on John Horger, 145 - pound senior, John McCullough, 155 - pound senior, and John Goodballet, 145-pound sophomore, for early defensive duty.

The big problem, Venditti pointed out, is rigging a defense to halt Salem's touchdown twins, 200-pound fullback Lou Slaby and lightning-fast halfback Ralph Ehrhart.

Both have been instrumental in leading the Quakers to five victories this season. Ehrhart figured prominently in last week's 19-18 upset of Youngstown East when he scored two touchdowns. Salem was behind at halftime, 18-0, but roared back in the second half to pull the game out of the fire.

—:—

ZELCH, ALTHOUGH bothered with a shoulder injury, has performed well in this week's practice and may handle the punting tonight, Venditti said. Cookie Goodballet and Burbick have alternated in punting in previous games.

East Liverpool will be gunning for its 24th victory over its Columbiana County rival tonight, but is a two-touchdown underdog.

In seven games, Salem has scored 185 points to the Potters 64. The Quakers have allowed opponents 60 points to East Liverpool's 114. East Liverpool (1-4-2) disposed of New Philadelphia, 16-6, for its only victory.

The Potters will seek to preserve their record of not having a touchdown pass thrown all season by opponents tonight and should escape with the mark intact as Salem is primarily a running ball club.

In point production, Musuraca leads the Potters with 16 on a pair of touchdowns and two running conversions. Dave Goodballet is in second place with 14 on two touchdowns and a running extra points try, Prince has 12 on two touchdowns and Tim Archer and Mackall each have 8 and O'Neil a touchdown.

Making Hay

NEWPORT NEWS, VA. (AP)—The Patrick Henry airport here is making hay and reaping dividends therefrom. Officials estimate that 150 tons of hay will be reaped this year. It helps finance the airport.

THESE TWO FOOTBALL SQUADS, East Junior High, top, and Westgate Junior High School, will tangle in the annual city championship battle Saturday afternoon at 2 at Patterson Field. Coach Dom Cascio's East High Panthers battled Salem to an 8-8 tie in their last outing after losing the first three games of the season. Cascio is assisted by Harry Wolfe. Westgate's Wildcats, guided by Bill Blair and assisted by Bill Erlitz and Dale Wilson, lost to East Palestine in their last game, 28-0. Saturday afternoon's battle will be preceded by a game between Coach Bob Hedmond's Potter reserves and East Palestine's reserves. Kickoff time for the reserve game is 10 a. m. at Patterson Field.

Yanks, Braves Dominate 1958 All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves and the New York Yankees dominate the 1958 Associated Press major league all-star team named today in a poll of 173 members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America.

Three Milwaukee players and two Yankees were selected. The Braves are outfielder Hank Aaron, catcher Del Crandall and left-handed pitcher Warren Spahn. The Yanks chosen are outfielder Mickey Mantle and right-hander pitcher Bob Turley.

The rest of the squad is composed of first baseman Stan Musial of the Cardinals, second baseman Nellie Fox of the White Sox, third baseman Frank Thomas of the Pirates, shortstop Ernie Banks of the Cubs and outfielder Willie Mays of the Giants.

Only Aaron, Spahn, Mantle and Musial are holdovers from last year's first team.

The balloting for shortstop was the most one-sided. Banks, the major league homer and RBI leader, collected 160 votes as compared to 8 for his nearest challenger, Luis Aparicio of the White Sox.

Other leading vote-getters were Spahn with 155, Musial 134, Mays 132, Turley 113 and Aaron 100.

Redlegs Add Wilber To Their Scouting Staff

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs today added Del Wilber, former catcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, Philadelphia Phillies and Boston Red Sox, to their scouting staff. He managed Louisville of the American Assn. last season.

Wilber, who now lives in Kirkwood, Mo., broke into the majors with the Cardinals in 1946 and finished with the Red Sox in 1954. He formerly managed Houston of the Texas League, served as a coach with the Chicago White Sox in 1955 and 1956 and was a scout for Baltimore in 1957.

Richard W. Gano is the 45th president of the American Bowling Congress. He is a native of Orange, N. J.

Westgate And East Tangle Saturday Afternoon At 2

Westgate Junior High School, city grade school champs for the last two years, will be shooting for its third consecutive victory over arch-rival East Junior High and permanent possession of a traveling trophy when the two squads battle Saturday afternoon at 2 at Patterson Field.

Coach Bill Blair's Wildcats have tripped East both times since the annual fray began two years ago and need only a victory Saturday to retain permanent possession of the city championship trophy donated by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

Westgate won the first game in 1956, 20-13, and edged East last year, 7-6, but all indications point to a rough battle this year as the two teams are about equal in size and ability.

Record-wise, the squads also appear about even in strength although Westgate has one victory to its credit for the season. Coach Dom Cascio's East Panthers have lost to East Palestine, 34-0, Wellsville 28-8, and Toronto, 16-8, but improved greatly in their last start by battling Salem to an 8-8 tie.

Westgate opened with an 8-0 victory over Toronto, but then lost to Martins Ferry, 32-0, Steubenville Central, 24-8, and East Palestine, 28-0. Westgate's seventh and eighth graders have a 1-2 record.

New York Happy For Chance To See Ring Champ

NEW YORK (AP) — In these days of boxing drought, New York is happy to see a world champion in a ring, even if his title isn't at stake. That is why there is unusual interest in tonight's appearance of Hogan (Kid) Bassey, the featherweight king.

Bassey, 26, of Nigeria, won the title by knocking out Cherif Hamia in Paris. It will be his fourth United States fight but his first in New York.

The non-title 10-round match match with Carmelo Costa of Brooklyn will be carried by NBC radio and TV, starting at 10 p.m. Two judges and a referee will score it by rounds, using a supplementary point system in case of even rounds.

Costa, only 24, used to be a high ranked contender in the 126-pound class. Of four starts this year, he has won three.

As Costa primarily is a boxer—he has knocked out only three in 45 fights — he isn't expected to give Bassey too much trouble. The champ is a heavy favorite.

Al Jacks, Richie Lucas and Bob Scrabis accounted for 1,185 yards in passing for the 1957 Penn State football team.

Top College Teams Cast Eyes On Major Bowls

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

"What are you doing new Year's Eve?" the popular song asks.

Any answer that Louisiana State, Iowa, California or Colorado can give to that question will have to wait until after Saturday's football games. These are the teams who have the inside track to the major New Year's Day bowl games.

The day's big game has the Sugar Bowl as a prize, as Louisiana State, the nation's No. 1 team faces sixth-ranked Mississippi. Both have 6-0 records. The winner will take control of the Southeastern Conference. The SEC titlist is the automatic Sugar Bowl host.

The other opponent in the big New Orleans classic can come from quite a few places.

North Carolina (No. 17), winner of its last four games, is a hot possibility as it meets Tennessee. So is the runner-up in the Big Eight Conference, whose title could be decided Saturday when seventh-ranked Oklahoma visits Colorado (No. 9).

Oklahoma (4-1), current Orange Bowl champ, is eligible to return this year. The Buffs, with a 5-0 record, head the Big Eight race with a 4-0 record. A victory for Colorado would send them to the Orange Bowl, barring a complete collapse against weaker Big Eight opponents, and would also snap OU's 67-game conference winning streak.

Since the Atlantic Coast Conference severed its tie with the Orange Bowl, the other participant is a wide-open bet. With a wealth of top Eastern independents, the Big Eight opponent could be decided, possibly, at Syracuse, N.Y., where Pitt and Syracuse meet.

The Panthers, 12th ranked, have a 4-1-1 mark and are also keeping an ear tuned to the Cotton Bowl. Syracuse, a loser only to Holy Cross, has a 4-1 mark and is also a Gator Bowl possibility.

The Rose Bowl participants may be all but formally signed Saturday. Big Ten leader Iowa (No. 2) goes after its first victory over Michigan since 1924. It is undefeated (3-0) in conference play with only defending champion Ohio State in its way, Nov. 22.

California, 3-0 in the Pacific Conference, meets Oregon State, in a game that will decide the PCC leader. If OSC wins, they take over the lead with a 4-1 mark.

The Cotton Bowl is still wide open. Rice No. 14, current Southwest Conference leader, is idle. If Texas Christian (No. 18) can whip Baylor, it will tie the Owls for the conference lead. Both have three conference games remaining after this week, meeting each other Nov. 22.

The Midwest has a trio of other games of national interest. Fifth-ranked Ohio State, unbeaten but once tied, plays once-beaten Northwestern, while Wisconsin (No. 8) meets Michigan State. This one is on nationwide TV.

The other Big Ten game pits 10th-ranked Purdue against Illinois.

The East has Army (No. 3) entertaining Colgate while Navy (No. 15) meets stumbling Notre Dame at Baltimore.

Auburn (No. 4) plays Florida in an SEC game and Clemson (No. 19 tries to stay atop the ACC against Wake Forest.

Yanks' Runaway Race Reflects Drop At Gate

CHICAGO (AP)—The New York Yankees' runaway race in the American League was reflected today by a sharp drop in official attendance figures for the 1958 season which attracted slightly more than seven million fans.

The total was the second lowest in 13 years. In 1953, attendance was 6,964,076 and in the war year of 1945 it was 5,580,420.

American League headquarters reported a 1958 total attendance of 7,296,034. That was 900,184, or 11 per cent lower than the 8,196,218 attendance in 1957.

As early as May, the Yankees were 10 games in front of the AL pack.

Six clubs reported a decrease from 1957. Minor gains were shown by the other two clubs.

The 1958 attendance compares with the all-time league record of 11,150,099 set in 1948.

Three clubs—New York, Detroit and Boston—each drew more than one million fans at home, but each also reported a drop compared with attendance last year.

The Chicago White Sox showed the biggest single loss among the clubs—338,217. The Sox, who finished in second place, drew a total of 795,451 at 77 games in Comiskey Park. In 1957, when they also finished second to the Yankees, they drew 1,135,668.

Baltimore's drop in attendance from 1957 was nearly 200,000. The 829,991 fans at 78 games in 1958 compared with 1,029,518 last year a decrease of 199,590.

The 1,098,924 who went to 77 games in Briggs Stadium in Detroit compared with 1,272,346 last year, a drop of 173,422.

Cleveland, which 10 years ago set a league attendance record of 2,620,627, drew 663,805 fans, a decrease of 58,451 from the 1947 turnout of 722,256.

Even the mighty Yankees, who had the league's biggest season attendance mark with 1,428,433, showed a loss of 68,696 in patronage at the stadium.

In Boston, the 1,077,047 faithful who went to 77 games in Fenway Park were 104,040 fewer than the 1,181,087 last year.

The small gains were made in Kansas City and Washington.

The Athletics drew 925,090, a gain of 24,023 over 1957.

The Senators, with the lowest total in the league, had a gain of 18,209 over 1957 with 475,288.

The league reported attendance was 3,543,513 in 241 night games, an average of 14,703. In 225 night games last year, the total was 3,889,023, an average of 17,285.

Spencer Sparks Youngstown To 20-12 Grid Win

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A 5 - foot - 8, 161-pound freshman sparked a second half surge that gave the Youngstown Penguins a 20-12 football victory over Baldwin-Wallace here Thursday night.

Mervin Spencer gave the Penguins the lift needed to snap a 12-12 tie in the last period. He gained 66 yards in 11 attempts and relieving Ray Carter, Youngstown's leading ball carrier who injured an ankle.

The Penguins' winning TD came after Spencer returned a punt 19 yards to the Baldwin-Wallace 21. Six plays later, Harold Green dashed seven yards for the score that broke the deadlock.

Chuck Brady, the Yellow Jackets' star quarterback, connected on 13 of 23 passes for 142 yards. He also set a team passing record with his 15th touchdown pass—to Bob Barrett from nine yards out.

Ohio All-Star Cage Game Set For June 20

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's second annual state high school all-star basketball game will be held June 20, 1959, at Hobart Arena in Troy.

The Ohio High School Basketball Coaches' Assn. awarded the contest to the arena Thursday night. It will be sponsored again by the Urbana High School Boosters Club.

This year's inaugural all-senior game, won handily by the Rebels, showed a profit of $1,939.75. Director Frank Shannon, former Urbana coach now of Ohio Wesleyan University, paid the coaches' association $484.94, and the remaining $1,454.81 went to the athletic department of Urbana High School.

The Urbana group, with Troy's Arena as the site, was the only bidder for the contest to be held next year. The board of directors of the coaches' group said invitations from other points would be entertained for future games.

J. Franklin Miller of Pleasantville was named president of the cage coaches at Thursday night's meeting, and Bill Satterlee of Akron South was elected first vice president. Satterlee will move into the presidency next year under the automatic elevation system.

At today's annual clinic session at Ohio State University, with some 1,000 coaches in attendance, the basketball mentors will choose between incumbent Paul Walker of Middletown and Bob Freenwood of Massillon for the secretary's job. Wilbur Burkey of Smithville is assistant secretary. He was named Thursday night.

Burkey announced the northern Ohio coaching school would be held Saturday, Dec. 16, at Smithville, with Coach Everett Shelton of Wyoming as the principal speaker.

Walker, who has coached Ohio all-star teams against Kentucky and Indiana all-senior teams for more than ten years, said he was dropping the Kentucky series next year but would continue to play the best of the Hoosiers at Fort Wayne.

At today's clinic, sponsored jointly by Ohio State, the coaches and the Ohio High School Athletic Assn., speakers were to be Coach Dan Baker of Northwestern's (Wayne County) Class A champions; Ed Wolfe of Perrysburg High School; the Rev. Bob Richards, the pole vaulting standout; Bob Timmons of the U. of Pittsburgh, and Fred Schaus, coach of West Virginia University.

The mentors again urged that the state basketball tournament be made up of eight teams from both Class AA and Class A, instead of the four from each division as now played. The state board of control is expected to consider the request at its next meeting.

'Hot' Quarterback Seen Key In Packer-Colt Fray

BALTIMORE (AP) — "I think the difference between winning and losing will be who has the real hot quarterback," an advance man for the Green Bay Packers says of Sunday's game against the Baltimore Colts.

Tom Miller, publicist for the Packers, brought word they are feeling secure with improvement of Babe Parilli as another quarterback to go along with Bart Starr.

"We hope Parilli has found himself," said Miller after noteworthy performances the past two weeks.

Parilli averaged 33 yards in completing nine passes late in the game against the Washington Redskins and hit on 14 of 26 in Green Bay's victory last Sunday over Philadelphia.

Starr is the control type of thrower while Parilli is the long ball stylist. Last year, Parilli beat the Colts in the last minute with a 75-yard scoring pass.

Starr gave the Colts a fit in their first meeting this season by completing 26 of 46 passes, the best single game performance so far. The Packers ran up a 17-0 lead before the Colts came on to win 24-17.

The Colts have real good reason to be tranquil about their own quarterbacking with John Unitas. He has thrown at least one touchdown pass in the last 20 games and is only three short of the all-time league record held by Cecil Isbell.

Unitas has chucked 10 touchdown passes this year, three more than any other league tosser. His passes have gained 1,090 yards which also is the most.

4 NL Clubs Show Gate Drop But Loop Had Near-Record

CINCINNATI (AP) — Four National League clubs had declines in attendance during the past season but the loop as a whole still drew the second greatest number of paying customers in history in 1958.

Official figures released by National League headquarters today showed the total attendance was 10,164,596 as compared with 8,819,601 in 1957 and the all time high of 10,388,470 in 1947.

The bulk of the attendance gain, of course, was registered by the Los Angeles Dodgers and the San Francisco Giants. The Dodgers, playing in the huge Los Angeles coliseum, drew 1,845,556 fans as compared with 1,028,258 in Brooklyn's Ebbetts Field in the previous year.

The Giants, although playing temporarily in the smallest park in the league, drew 1,272,625 at San Francisco and in 1957 they drew only 653,923 in New York's Polo Grounds.

Pittsburgh and Chicago also showed sharp attendance gains while Cincinnati, Milwaukee, Philadelphia and St. Louis had the losses in paying customers.

The league championship Milwaukee Braves had the high attendance for the year with 1,971,101 but that was 244,303 less than the 2,215,404 they drew in 1957.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, with a surprise second place finish, boosted their attendance 461,256 from 850,732 to 1,311,988 and the Cubs barely missed the million mark as they drew 979,004 fans as compared with 670,275 in 1957. The Cubs play all their home games in the daytime.

Cincinnati was the heaviest attendance loser as the Redlegs dropped 282,268 from 1,070,850 in 1957 to 788,582.

The Braves were the biggest gate attraction on the road as their games drew 1,547,255 fans but they were pressed closely by San Francisco and St. Louis.

The Giants drew 1,484,994 on the road and the Cardinals 1,468,124. Philadelphia was the poorest road attraction with a gate of 1,091,346.

'The Stilt' Sees Experience With Trotters As Aid In '59

By SKIPPER PATRICK
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Fantastic basketball player Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain says the experience he's getting as a Harlem Globetrotter is preparing him for the challenge he'll meet as a Philadelphia Warrior next season.

The 7-foot Chamberlain, twice an All-America at the University of Kansas, quit school as a junior to turn pro for Abe Saperstein's Globetrotters. He made his first appearance as a pro in this area Thursday night and scored 30 points as the Globetrotters defeated the Hawaii 50th Staters 69-59.

"I missed the college enthusiasm and the many friends I made at Kansas," Wilt said, "but I'm happy in pro ball. I'm picking up a lot of the tricks of the trade and I hope it will help me when I play NBA against such a guy as Bill Russell next year."

Chamberlain said the pros play it tough and "I knew I had to learn a lot more about the game before I got into the big league." Wilt was drafted by the Warriors in his senior year at Philadelphia's Overbrook High School for delivery in 1959.

Since leaving Kansas just before completing his junior year final examination Wilt has maintained a scoring average of about 30 points for the Globetrotters' European tour and 12 games in this country.

Reports Incomplete, Sketchy

Candidates For Congress In Ohio Mum On Expenses

By JAMES B. SIBBISON

WASHINGTON (AP)—It would be interesting to know how much money is being spent by Ohio candidates for Congress in their campaigns for votes.

You certainly can't tell from most of the reports being filed with Congress by the candidates themselves.

As any reporter can testify, the reports are incomplete, sketchy and sometimes don't say much of anything at all.

This is not to say that candidates in Ohio or anywhere else are trying to conceal anything. They are conforming with the law. It's the law, just about everybody agrees, that is out of date.

It was passed in 1925 and hasn't been changed in any important respect since.

As a sample, take the contribution reports by candidates in the Ohio senatorial race. (The same principle, of course, could be illustrated in any senatorial race).

The Ohio Republican nominee, Sen. John W. Bricker, has not reported any contributions to his campaign.

This was perfectly proper. A campaign committee handled the Bricker fund. Such a committee is specifically exempted from reporting by the 1925 law.

Bricker's opponent, Democrat Stephen M. Young, listed a preliminary contribution figure of about $500.

Now it should be obvious that these reports are meaningless to any Ohio voter wanting to know the identity of contributors to campaigns of the individual candidates and how much money is being spent.

Actually, the Corrupt Practices Act was written to provide answers to such questions.

Just about every member of Congress agrees that the legislation is failing in its purpose.

There have been many efforts, especially in the Senate, to rewrite this law. A bill to do just that a year or so ago was signed by 85 senators.

Yet all these efforts have failed. Why?

Well, some senators prefer to leave to the states the supervision of campaign contributions and expenditures. Others say that they couldn't find a campaign chairman willing to put up with the detail that such reports would require.

But a big factor is a natural reluctance by members of Congress to make things more difficult for themselves.

"There is apathy in both parties against this kind of legislation," a staff member of the Senate Elections Subcommittee explained. "People always get interested in this sort of thing around election time. Next year it's deader than a door nail.

"There just doesn't seem to be enough continued interest among the voters. If anything is ever done, it's going to have to come from the people."

'Golden Girl' Of Purdue Won't Do Game Show

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Purdue University's "Golden Girl" won't do her hula and Parisian numbers for the homecoming crowd between halves of the Illinois-Purdue football game Saturday.

The "Golden Girl," Adelaide Jeanne Darling, usually dances a hula solo and does a Parisian number with three other baton twirlers, but both are missing from the Purdue Marching Band Bulletin for this week.

Two coeds wrote a letter to the campus newspaper this week complaining about Miss Darling's "wiggles" during the hula dance at Notre Dame last Saturday.

Miss Darling and Prof. Al Wright, head of the band, declined to discuss omission of the numbers from this week's program.

Methodist Group Told

'Right-Work' Win, Loss Seen Only Political Victory

CINCINNATI (AP) — The National Methodist Conference on Industrial Relations today heard a university dean and labor arbitrator declare passage or non-passage of "right-to-work" laws "is a political victory for one side or the other, but nothing more."

The statement came from Dr. John W. McConnell, dean of the graduate school of Cornell University and a member of the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Service.

He spoke during the second day of the four-day Methodist Conference on Labor Relations.

"These laws make no fundamental contribution to the rights of workers or to industrial peace," said Dr. McConnell of the "right-to-work" laws. "They are at best symbols of the conflict between organized labor and organized management. They are like the rope in a tug-of-war or the ball in a football match. The passage or non-passage of such a law is a political victory for one side or the other, but nothing more."

Dr. McConnell said workers should have the opportunity to work in jobs for which he is best fitted but, he added:

"Basically these laws confuse the issue of whether or not a worker should or should not join a union by making certain forms of union organization illegal and casting doubts upon the value of union membership of any kind."

"There are proposals," he continued, "which would improve the organization and responsibility of union but 'right-to-work' laws do not fall in this category."

Calling attention to efforts by the United States to share its abundance of material things with impoverished nations, Dr. McConnell said:

"Unfortunately, our approaches to foreign aid have been inspired by political and military necessity and we have used foreign aid to but support in our cold war against Russia.

"We have made our gifts with a propaganda supplement and conditional on the adoption of some particular American viewpoint or procedure. We need to expand these peaceful programs of foreign aid and open the doors and windows of our hearts so that humanity and brotherhood will be the dominant motive of our policy.

"New and imaginative ways must be found by which we can aid the people of the earth to achieve decent standards of living. But whatever we must do must be done in such a way as to preserve the dignity and independence of these people."

Philanthropist Dies

Painter Dies At 72

NEW YORK (AP)—Girard Van Barkaloo Hale, 72, a painter whose love for France included "adoption" of a war-torn French village, died Thursday. Hale and his wife, the former Kathleen Burke, a British nurse who was known as the "Angel of France" and who was the most decorated woman in World War I, adopted the tiny village of Maille in 1946 and contributed clothes, machinery, utensils and Christmas trees. He was born in Denver.

Young Promises To Fight Delay On Civil Rights Bills

CLEVELAND (AP) — Stephen M. Young, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, says he will support a rule to prevent delaying tactics on civil rights bills in the Senate if he is elected.

He made that statement in a series of ward meeting Thursday night to predominantly Negro audiences. He drew heavy applause when he said:

"I will vote in favor of a federal fair employment practices law. You can depend on that."

Young said his opponent, Republican Sen. John W. Bricker, had criticized the Supreme Court, which Young contended gives support to southern segregationists.

Earlier, Young received a telegram from Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic national committee, congratulating him on the "tremendous upsurge" in his campaign.

"I urge you not to let Ohio's unemployed forget that Sen. Bricker voted against extension of unemployment compensation, increased aid to the disabled and the lowering of interest rates on government loans to build public facilities," the telegram from Butler said.

New Ohio Traffic Death Record Due At Present Rate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If Ohio's traffic death rate continues at its present rate, a new 22-year-low may be established, says Highway Safety Director Gordon Jeffery.

During the first 10 months of 1958, Jeffery said Thursday, traffic accidents claimed 1,460 lives in Ohio, or 4.8 for every 100 million miles traveled. In the same period last year, 1,639 persons died in traffic accidents, or 5.4 per 100 million miles traveled.

If the trend continues through the end of the year, Ohio's death rate will be 5.1 (1,850 deaths), the lowest since 1936, Jeffery said.

Last year's 12-month figure was 5.6 (2,053 deaths).

THE ABC'S IN BUYING REAL ESTATE

THE PRICE IS DETERMINED BY SIZE, CONDITION, AGE, AND LOCATION. DON'T BE MISLED! CONSIDER ALL FACTORS.

A good downtown property at 209 W. 3rd ST. that can be duplexed or used as a large 1 family home. The replacement cost for a home in this condition would be much more than the reduced price we are asking of $8850. The location is convenient and the condition is excellent.

313 THOMPSON AVE. is an old, but very desirable residential neighborhood. There is a large 3 bedroom home with a new gas furnace, modern bath, open fireplace, and carpeted throughout. You can walk to town and still live in a residential neighborhood for $9900. Terms arranged if neccessary.

1201 LINCOLN AVE. NORTHSIDE is the kind of a Brick home that couldn't be replaced for near the asking price. Its a 1½ story home with 3 bedrooms, study, den, living-room, dining-room, kitchen and breakfast nook. Los Angeles Fears Fallout As U.S. Ends Atomic Tests

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—An era of nuclear weapons testing ended at midnight.

And in its wake: renewed furor over the dangers of radioactive fallout.

President Eisenhower's one-year suspension of tests went into effect today. Talks between the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union will determine whether it lasts longer.

The last atomic shot went off in a mountainside tunnel with an earth-jolting shock. It was as big as the atomic bombs which destroyed Japanese cities in World War II. It lifted a 500-foot-wide column of rock and dirt 1,000 feet above the mountain top. Huge boulders crashed down the slopes.

Atomic Energy Commission scientists kept trying to set off another weapon right up until the midnight deadline. A blast was to have gone off under a balloon at 1,500 feet altitude. But high winds balked the effort.

Alarmed by a spurt in radioactivity over Los Angeles Mayor Norris Poulson tried to get the AEC to call off the shot that never materialized.

He phoned the AEC in Washington and complained to Commissioner W. F. Libby that wind was blowing fallout from Nevada tests over his city.

Libby said the amount of radioactivity over Los Angeles was not hazardous.

Measurements by the Los Angeles City Health Department showed that the amount of radioactivity in the air was 20 per cent above the level considered safe for human consumption over a period of months.

An immediate flurry of excitement, apprehension and anger followed.

The uproar was subsiding today under a barrage of reassuring statements.

An AEC spokesman at the Nevada testing site said radioactivity in the Los Angeles air will dissipate quickly. He said the amount was equal only to the exposure a person would experience under normal circumstances over two months.

Los Angeles' city health officer, Dr. George M. Uhl, said: "There is no cause for public alarm at this time."

Mrs. Mildred Bleumenthall and Mrs. Monasky also reported on the area Juliette Low observances, and Mrs. Pittinger and Mrs. J. W. Prager told of the leaders training classes being held on Mondays at the Bryan Recreation Center, lasting two more weeks.

Mrs. Charles Thomas, neighborhood organizing chairman, announced a new meeting place at Westgate School and new applications for use of leaders. Mrs. Charles Bosco requested that all troops be registered.

The council approved requests for various activities to raise funds.

Mrs. Fred Mountford of Washington, sister of Dr. Charles Bailey, was a guest. A member of the Regional 3 committee, she told of the importance of the Juliette Low Foundation Fund.

Man Blames Aspirin For Traffic Arrest

In the first case of its kind taken into Municipal Court in many years, a 28-year-old district man pleaded guilty today to a charge of "operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of an opiate or narcotic."

Richard D. Williams of R. D. 1 told Judge George L. Brokaw: "I have had terrible headaches lately and I have taken a lot of aspirin."

Williams was given the same sentence as a drunken driver—a fine of $300 and costs, a 10-day jail term and a six-month suspension of his operator's permit. State law and city ordinances provide the same penalties for both drunken driving or use of the drugs while at the wheel.

No testimony was taken because of Williams' guilty plea. He was arrested by the State Highway Patrol at 1 this morning on Route 267 with the assistance of Constable Clifford Owens of Liverpool Township, the patrol report showed. Williams was identified as a plumber's employe.

It was the first time in the memory of the oldest men on the force that a driver faced such a charge in the city court. A few years ago a man was tried as a "user" of narcotics, but explained that he had taken medication prescribed by a physician, not dope bought on the black market.

Meanwhile, a Weirton area man was fined $200 and costs when he pleaded guilty to being in physical control of an auto while intoxicated.

Duane F. Wylie of Weirton R. D. 1 was taken into custody at 6:40 p. m. Thursday on W. 5th St. The arresting officers said his auto was headed the wrong way on the one-way street. Wylie was at the wheel with the motor running and the headlights switched on, they reported. Wylie originally pleaded not guilty, but switched his plea to guilty a few minutes later.

In a third traffic case, Raymond C. Miller of Pittsburgh forfeited an $11 bond on a charge of parking his auto on the traveled portion of a highway. He was arrested at 10 p. m. Thursday on Route 30 by the State Highway Patrol.

SOMETHING OUGHT TO BE DONE!

Why won't the present incumbent County Republican office holders tell us HOW MUCH MONEY WE HAVE IN OUR COUNTY FUNDS? What are they hiding from you, the taxpayers? IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE before it's too late!

Why are some of the attorneys so interested in seeing the present Common Pleas Judge re-elected? Are they afraid ROBERT S. HARTFORD will break up the old clique when he is elected Judge? If our present judge had done his work, the County would have saved over $40,000, the cost of the second court that was created. THE COURTS BELONG TO THE PEOPLE. IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE!

Why are we about to lose U. S. Route 62 out of Salem and Columbiana County? JOHN F. KELLY will work to keep Route 62 in Columbiana County and near Salem where it belongs. IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE!

Why won't the Republican candidates for County offices state their ages? Why are the Republican candidates using pictures that are 20 years old? Are they afraid you will find out how old they are? Some of these candidates can receive large retirement pension checks. LET'S RETIRE THEM! IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE!

The Republican County incumbents will again raise your Real Estate taxes with a new appraisal. They are going to spend $180,000 to reappraise your real estate again. Result: Another INCREASE IN YOUR TAXES! IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE!
